Pontiff's Body Placed In Crypt Under Basilica

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Roman Catholic Church buried Pope John XXIII, the peasant's son who gave Christendom a new urge for unity and love, in St. Peter's Basilica Thursday night.

The private ceremony came after two days of public viewing of the body, which the Vatican said drew two million mourners to the basilica.

To give a glimpse to those in St. Peter's Square who could not get in, the body was borne briefly from the basilica just before the burial.

The 81-year-old pontiff, who died Monday night after four days of agony from a stomach tumor and peritonitis, was laid to rest in a triple coffin of walnut, lead and cypress in a grotto he himself selected two years ago.

Will Suggests Transfer

However, his last will and testament, disclosed by the Vatican press office Thursday, expressed hope that his remains eventually would be transferred to the Lateran Palace adjoining the Cathedral of St. John Lateran, his See as Bishop of Rome. He suggested the transfer be made after completion of a project he instituted to convert the palace from a museum into a vicariate.

While the church performed its last solemn ceremony for burying a Pope, 50,000 pilgrims gathered in the square outside were asked to offer silent homage to "the Pope of charity, of goodness and of peace." They responded with sincerity.

Congregation Sings Anthem

As the body was carried away, the congregation in the basilica sang this anthem:

"May the angels lead thee into paradise; may the martyrs receive thee at thy coming, and lead thee unto the holy city of Jerusalem.

"May the choir of angels receive thee, and may thou have eternal rest with Lazarus, who once was poor."

Only moments before, grief swept over Msgr. Loris Capovilla, the Pope's 46-year-old private secretary, as he gazed for the last time on the face of the man he had served for a decade. Msgr. Capovilla kissed the Pope's folded hands and wept.

Nearby the dead Pope's sister, Assunta Roncalli, 78, watched sadly. The Pope's three brothers were not present. They had gone back to their alpine village, Sotto il Monte, and were busy toiling in the fields they had worked since childhood.

Education Aid Pitch Made By JFK

Kennedy Cites Goal Of Giving All Fair Chance

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—President Kennedy called upon the nation Thursday to support his education program and the goal of giving every American child a fair chance, regardless of race.

Kennedy said that "American children today do not yet enjoy equal educational opportunities, for two primary reasons —one economic, the other racial."

Applauding listeners heard him add that "we must move ahead quickly in both areas" in order to meet the goal of "giving every American child a fair chance."

The President's forum was an academic one, at San Diego State College.

Kennedy delivered the commencement address after getting something of a history-making honorary degree.

"Instant Graduate"

California's 17 state colleges combined in giving him the first honorary doctor of law degree any of them ever has awarded.

"To be an instant graduate of this college is greatly appreciated," the President said with a chuckle.

After his address, whose passages on racial issues were toned down considerably from the advance version, Kennedy climbed into a helicopter and flew to the San Diego Marine Corps recruit depot for a short course in how a recruit is converted in a few weeks into a tough, fit, fighting man.

This was a prelude to a trip to sea on an aircraft carrier to watch what the Navy can do in amphibious and anti-submarine warefare and in repelling or launching aerial attacks.

Tour Has Political Side

The day had political overtones, too. By the president's side all the way was Gov. Edmond G. (Pat) Brown.

The governor says he is going to run next year's election campaign in a state Brown won in 1962 and Kennedy lost in 1960. Both ran against the same man—former vice president Richard M. Nixon.

San Diego was the pivotal point in California's swing to Nixon in 1960. Kennedy lost the state by only 35,000 but dropped San Diego County by 52,000 votes.

A police-estimated crowd of 300,000 lined a six-mile parade route through the city and gave Kennedy a warm reception despite the chilly weather. Children let out of school swelled the turnout.

Hundreds of signs were printed. Many were the product of Democratic clubs. A few showed a liking for Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., for president in 1964.

Only Soviet Acceptance Still Needed

Circuit Designed To Lessen Danger Of Accidental War

GENEVA (AP)—American and Soviet communications specialists have reached full agreement on a hot line teletype circuit intended to prevent accidental war, it was disclosed Thursday.

The agreement has been accepted by the U.S. government and only the Soviet government approval is still needed to start technical work on the unprecedented hookup.

The American and Soviet delegates at the 17-nation disarmament conference and technicians from both sides put the final touches to the agreement at a two-hour meeting on Tuesday.

First Fruit Of Conference

It was the last of 18 such meetings that took place periodically over the past month on the sidelines of the conference. The agreement is the first achievement of the otherwise deadlocked conference.

U.S. Ambassador Charles C. Stelle and Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin, who are the two co-chairmen of the conference, will give the other delegations formal notice of their agreement as soon as Tsarapkin receives the go-ahead from Moscow.

The other delegations have been completely excluded from the discussions since Tsarapkin announced on April 5 that the Soviet government was prepared to accept the hot line idea first put forward by the United States last year.

Existing Cables To Be Used

The specialists agreed that existing telecommunications facilities should be used for the hot line, including an underwater transatlantic cable between the United States and Britain. The use of existing cables could allow the circuit to go into operation in a matter of weeks, officials said.

The line will pass through Stockholm and Helsinki. The British, Swedish and Finnish governments will be asked to provide the circuits, but they will not have any right to use the hot line.

Both the American and Soviet governments have rejected a British request to be linked into the hot line, at least at the outset.

Both governments apparently felt that bringing in third parties might eventually turn the hot line into a network and thus reduce its effectiveness.

Pesticide List Secrecy Draws Ribicoff Blast

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., denounced as "fantastic" an Agriculture Department denial that its officials tried to keep secret the list of pesticides being sold without endorsement.

Without naming any of the officials he accused of "bureaucratic blight," Ribicoff told the Senate there have been instances when the officials tried to block public information on products which might be dangerous to humans, animals or crops.

"Officials of the department will not help matters if they try to pretend that mistakes were never made," the senator said.

But Ribicoff absolved Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman of any blame and pointed out that his former Cabinet colleague had directed that all such "protest registrations" be made public.

"It is impossible for a secretary to know everything that is going on in a vast department. But that is no excuse for departmental officials to hide what is going on or try to kid a secretary, the press, the public or a United States senator," Ribicoff said.

Ribicoff is chairman of a subcommittee which has been holding hearings on pesticides.

The Agriculture Department said it would not comment on Ribicoff's speech beyond what it said on Tuesday after Ribicoff first made his secrecy charges. A spokesman said then the list of pesticides had been and is available to any newsman who wants it.

Ribicoff said Thursday the list of seven products given to newsmen is not complete "because five others which were denied department approval might have been offered for public sale." He added that since he received the list "all five either have been corrected or are definitely off the market and their protest registration canceled."

Unemployment Pushed To 5.9% By Teenagers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Teenagers born during the post-World War II "baby boom" flooded the nation's labor force last month to push the unemployment rate to 5.9 per cent, the government reported Thursday.

The job picture was darkened by the problem of teen-age joblessness, which Labor Department officials said soared to 18 per cent in May. This was more than triple the rate for adults and caused the overall seasonally adjusted jobless rate to rise from 5.7 per cent in April and from 5.5 per cent in May, 1962.

The actual number of persons seeking jobs last month stood steady at the estimated 4,066,000 total for April. In computing the figures, however, government experts take into account such things as improved weather and general business conditions, which normally results in a drop of 200,000 in joblessness in May. This drop did not occur last month as a result of the soaring number of teenagers looking for work.

Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz said in a statement issued with the job report that teenage unemployment could become "one of the most explosive social problems in the nation's history."

Total employment hit a May record of 69,061,000 as a result of a rise of 850,000. Non-farm jobs also reached a new peak of 63,883,000 with an increase of 450,000.

The continued increase in the non-farm picture provided a bright spot in the employment scene, in the view of Labor Department experts. It shows, they said, that "in general, there is strength in the economy."

Wirtz saw no easy, quick answer to the teen-age problem. The May report showed that 1.2 million youths under 20 were trying to find work — the largest number in 23 years.

Suitcase Explodes Outside Jetliner

LONDON (UPI) — A cheap plastic suitcase exploded mysteriously Thursday only 20 minutes before it was to be put aboard a Portuguese jetliner headed for Lisbon with 68 passengers.

Nobody was hurt by the blast. "Had this happened in the air, it would have inevitably caused the plane to crash," an airport official said.

There were indications the explosion may have been the latest in a series of bombings or bomb threats carried out by Iberian anarchists in an attempt to scare tourists away from Spain and Portugal.

Queen's Name Mentioned In British Political Storm

LONDON (AP) — The turbulent love life of a beautiful redhead rocked Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's government Thursday. There were demands for yet another investigation of Britain's security services.

And the name of Queen Elizabeth II was drawn into the burning political row.

A Conservative member of the House of Commons, John Cordle, said Thursday night he was appalled to hear that the Queen will receive John Profumo, who resigned as war minister Wednesday admitting he lied when he said he had not had improper relations with model Christine Keeler, 22.

It is customary, though not obligatory, for outgoing secretaries of state to hand over their seals of office to the sovereign. Some commentators had speculated that Profumo might be spared this interview, but Buckingham Palace ended that talk with an announcement:

"It is expected that the Queen will receive the late secretary of state for war upon his resignation Tuesday morning."

Cordle said he was staggered by the news.

He said the Queen was "wrongly advised," a criticism of the government more than the Queen herself.

Immediately after telling the Commons last month that his friendship with Christine was innocent—a statement that he now admits was a lie—Profumo went to a race track as the guest of Queen Mother Elizabeth and was photographed with her in all the next day's papers.

U.S. Airliners Fly Over Cuba

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government gave U. S. commercial airliners a go-ahead Thursday to fly over Cuba for the first time since last fall's missile crisis. The action appeared to be designed to wipe out a competitive advantage enjoyed by foreign airlines.

The way was cleared when the State Department announced it was asking the Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) to lift a warning notice that had been in effect since Nov. 27. In the weeks before Nov. 27, there had been a flat Defense Department ban on U. S. commercial flights over Cuba.

U. S. airlines have suffered a competitive disadvantage since foreign airlines have been flying directly over Cuba to South American destinations. American planes had to detour the island.

Navy Court Ends Thresher Inquiry

PORTSMOUTH, N.H. (AP) — A Navy Court of Inquiry wound up its investigation of the loss of the nuclear submarine Thresher Thursday and said it would turn over its findings to higher naval authorities.

The court of two admirals and three captains wound up its work just eight weeks to the day after it convened in Portsmouth.

The Thresher sank with the loss of 129 lives during a deep dive test 220 miles at sea April 10.

Although the court's work is completed, the task of trying to find the Thresher continued in an area 200 yards wide and 700 yards long, where the water is 8,400 feet deep.

Iran's Premier Says Sabotage Plot Smashed

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Premier Assadullah Alam said Thursday the government has smashed a new plot aimed at toppling Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi by sabotaging Tehran's vital utilities and educational institutions.

While martial law preserved an uneasy calm, the premier told listeners in a nationwide radio broadcast that plot leaders had been arrested and would be tried.

Two papers reported gunfire near the summer palace outside the city where the shah and his family took shelter.

There were sporadic incidents of violence, but nothing like the rioting Wednesday which, the coroner said, left 79 dead including 14 in the Moslem holy city of Qum to the south.

Rioters were protesting the shah's program, endorsed by an overwhelming majority of Iranians, for distributing land to poor peasants.

Troops sealed off Tehran's only public cemetery to prevent new demonstrations during the hurried burials of the riot victims.

They also closed off small areas around government buildings after troops had to fire in the air to repel a mob attacking the radio station for the third day in a row. Some of the attackers were dressed in white shrouds as a sign of defiance.

Such mobs, recruited in the bazaars, are available to anyone who can pay them, and for almost any cause.

Knots of them made ineffectual attacks Thursday against three telephone exchanges.

U.S. officials said a jeep belonging to the American military advisory mission was stoned as it drove past Tehran University but no one was injured. Two jeeps were stoned the day before and rioters damaged the Iranian-American student center.

U.S. District Judge Dies At Fairmont

FAIRMONT, W. Va. (UPI) — U. S. District Court Judge Harry Watkins was fatally stricken with a heart attack here Thursday evening shortly after addressing the Marion County Bar Association.

Officials said Watkins who served as judge of the northern and southern districts of West Virginia, was talking with a group of friends outside the Town House Motel, where the dinner was held, when he collapsed and died almost instantly.

A spokesman said two physicians who lived near the motel were called but were unable to revive the 64-year-old Watkins.

A Marion County native, Watkins was born at Watson on Nov. 6, 1898, and spent his early childhood at Monongah.

Meredith Returns To Ole Miss Campus

Negro Greeted By Newcomer McDowell

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — James H. Meredith, the University of Mississippi's first Negro student, registered for the summer session Thursday.

The 29-year-old senior arrived from Jackson, Miss., to find things a bit different than they were during the long and lonely winter session.

The dormitory quarters included another Negro student, Cleve McDowell, 21.

Meredith, drove his little foreign car by the Law College to pick up McDowell, who had just completed his first class at Ole Miss.

McDowell, coatless with a white shirt and dark tie, had walked to the Law School building unaccompanied — although U.S. marshals watched from a few hundred feet away.

In a television talk Wednesday at Jackson, Gov. Ross R. Barnett said the might of the U.S. government got McDowell into Ole Miss and is now responsibile for his safety.

At Baxter Hall, the men's dormitory where both were assigned, McDowell helped Meredith carry his belongings to his room.

Both were ignored by most white students. Some 2,000 of them are expected to register for the summer session—about half of the student population during the fall and spring sessions.

Many incoming students are teachers and others working for higher degrees, which raises the average campus age level and is expected to lead to a relatively calm summer.

McDowell passed through registration Wednesday without incident. He said he didn't even hear a rude remark during the process.

When Meredith first arrived on campus last fall, protected by some 400 marshals, it sparked a campus riot that left two men dead and scores wounded.

Throughout the regular school year, Meredith was accompanied by marshals when he moved about the campus.

Of the some 20,000 troops sent into the Oxford area after the riot, 300 remain on duty as permanent guards at Baxter Hall and to assist the marshals.

Grass Roots Racial Peace Drive Urged

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration hopes for a vast grass roots movement of racial conciliation to head off a possible wave of bloody race riots in the North and South this summer.

This word came Thursday from a source in close touch with administration planning.

President Kennedy, this informant said, intends to fight hard for new civil rights legislation.

"It will be a tough fight," he said. "But we feel more people are aroused now and we have a greater chance of getting legislation than we had last year. At any rate, we can't just sit here and be impotent. We have to demonstrate we are acting."

But the federal government cannot do the job alone, he said. It is up to governors, mayors, clergymen, educators, newspaper publishers and other civic leaders to sit down with Negroes, demonstrate interest in their condition, and show them definite signs of progress.

Trip For Johnson

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—The White House announced Thursday that Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson will make an extensive tour of Scandinavia next September.

The vice president, accompanied by his wife, will serve as the personal representative of President Kennedy in visiting Denmark, Norway, Iceland, Sweden and Finland.

Kennedy To Use Troops, If Necessary, At U. Of Ala.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's strategy for the University of Alabama racial crisis unfolded Thursday:

Force to the utmost if needed, but the administration fervently hopes that no force whatever will be necessary.

A high source attuned to the administration's thinking said:

1. Everybody, including the defiant Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama, knows that three Negroes are going to be enrolled in the university. But Wallace has pledged to stand in the doorway to prevent desegregation when the showdown comes, presumably next Monday.

2. If Wallace surrounds himself with, say, 500 state troopers, and an approximately equal force of federal marshals faces the troopers, there will be "no shoving match" between the two armed forces. "Somebody could really get hurt then," the Kennedy administration source said.

3. But the Negroes must be admitted, the source said, and he indicated that an overwhelming federal force, presumably troops, would be brought in, if necessary.

The source stressed over and over that the question of the use of troops is not up to the federal government but to the governor, who is under a federal court injunction not to interfere with desegregation.

"I don't know at this moment," the administration source said, "just how the students are going to get in, but they are going to get in."

Mindszenty Will Remain In U.S. Refuge

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—A high Catholic source said Thursday Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty has apparently decided to remain in the U.S. legation here for the time being and not to take part in the Vatican conclave for the election of a new Pope.

The Hungarian government, however, appeared eager to have the 71-year-old cardinal out of the country.

Some reports pictured Cardinal Mindszenty, who has been in refuge in the U.S. legation since the Russians smashed the Hungarian uprising in 1956, as still considering himself a symbol of living resistance to Communist oppression.

In this role, these reports said, the cardinal feels that his mere presence here serves as an instrument of pressure upon the regime which could help the church obtain more latitude in its activities.

Cardinal Mindszenty may have been about ready to defer to the wishes of the late Pope John XXIII to go to Rome to accept a high Vatican post, but he now may be waiting to learn the views of the new Pope before taking any action, some observers said.

U.S. Sends Copter Over East Berlin

BERLIN (UPI) — The United States Army sent a helicopter over East Berlin Thursday in defiance of a Soviet protest and a shadowing by a Red jet fighter.

American officials said the flights will continue as a demonstration of allied rights to fly anywhere over both sides of the divided city.

The Soviets sent up a jet to shadow the helicopter on its 16-minute flight. The fighter stayed a safe distance and did not attempt to harass the copter, American officials said.

Unemployment Pushed To 5.9% By Teenagers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Teenagers born during the post-World War II "baby boom" flooded the nation's labor force last month to push the unemployment rate to 5.9 per cent, the government reported Thursday.

The job picture was darkened by the problem of teen-age joblessness, which Labor Department officials said soared to 18 per cent in May. This was more than triple the rate for adults and caused the overall seasonally adjusted jobless rate to rise from 5.7 per cent in April and from 5.5 per cent in May, 1962.

The actual number of persons seeking jobs last month stood steady at the estimated 4,066,000 total for April. In computing the figures, however, government experts take into account such things as improved weather and general business conditions, which normally results in a drop of 200,000 in joblessness in May. This drop did not occur last month as a result of the soaring number of teenagers looking for work.

Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz said in a statement issued with the job report that teenage unemployment could become "one of the most explosive social problems in the nation's history."

Total employment hit a May record of 69,061,000 as a result of a rise of 850,000. Non-farm jobs also reached a new peak of 63,683,000 with an increase of 450,000.

The continued increase in the non-farm picture provided a bright spot in the employment scene, in the view of Labor Department experts. It shows, they said, that "in general, there is strength in the economy."

Wirtz saw no easy, quick answer to the teen-age problem. The May report showed that 1.2 million youths under 20 were trying to find work — the largest number in 23 years.

One Interpretation

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI) —The Minnesota Highway Department reported Thursday that a pedestrian, charged with ignoring a "don't walk" sign, told the judge he thought it was an advertisement for a taxi company.

Suitcase Explodes Outside Jetliner

LONDON (UPI) — A cheap plastic suitcase exploded mysteriously Thursday only 20 minutes before it was to be put aboard a Portuguese jetliner headed for Lisbon with 68 passengers.

Nobody was hurt by the blast. "Had this happened in the air, it would have inevitably caused the plane to crash," an airport official said.

There were indications the explosion may have been the latest in a series of bombings or bomb threats carried out by Iberian anarchists in an attempt to scare tourists away from Spain and Portugal.

Queen's Name Mentioned In British Political Storm

LONDON (AP) — The turbulent love life of a beautiful redhead rocked Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's government Thursday. There were demands for yet another investigation of Britain's security services.

And the name of Queen Elizabeth II was drawn into the burning political row.

A Conservative member of the House of Commons, John Cordle, said Thursday night he was appalled to hear that the Queen will receive John Profumo, who resigned as war minister Wednesday admitting he lied when he said he had not had improper relations with model Christine Keeler, 22.

It is customary, though not obligatory, for outgoing secretaries of state to hand over their seals of office to the sovereign. Some commentators had speculated that Profumo might be spared this interview, but Buckingham Palace ended that talk with an announcement:

"It is expected that the Queen will receive the late secretary of state for war upon his resignation Tuesday morning."

Cordle said he was staggered by the news.

He said the Queen was "wrongly advised," a criticism of the government more than the Queen herself.

Immediately after telling the Commons last month that his friendship with Christine was innocent—a statement that he now admits was a lie—Profumo went to a race track as the guest of Queen Mother Elizabeth and was photographed with her in all the next day's papers.

U.S. Airliners Fly Over Cuba

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government gave U. S. commercial airliners a go-ahead Thursday to fly over Cuba for the first time since last fall's missile crisis. The action appeared to be designed to wipe out a competitive advantage enjoyed by foreign airlines.

The way was cleared when the State Department announced it was asking the Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) to lift a warning notice that had been in effect since Nov. 27. In the weeks before Nov. 27, there had been a flat Defense Department ban on U. S. commercial flights over Cuba.

U. S. airlines have suffered a competitive disadvantage since foreign airlines have been flying directly over Cuba to South American destinations. American planes had to detour the island.

Navy Court Ends Thresher Inquiry

PORTSMOUTH, N.H. (AP) — A Navy Court of Inquiry wound up its investigation of the loss of the nuclear submarine Thresher Thursday and said it would turn over its findings to higher naval authorities.

The court of two admirals and three captains wound up its work just eight weeks to the day after it convened in Portsmouth.

The Thresher sank with the loss of 129 lives during a deep dive test 220 miles at sea April 10.

Iran's Premier Says Sabotage Plot Smashed

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Premier Assadullah Alam said Thursday the government has smashed a new plot aimed at toppling Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi by sabotaging Tehran's vital utilities and educational institutions.

While martial law preserved an uneasy calm, the premier told listeners in a nationwide radio broadcast that plot leaders had been arrested and would be tried.

Two papers reported gunfire near the summer palace outside the city where the shah and his family took shelter.

There were sporadic incidents of violence, but nothing like the rioting Wednesday which, the coroner said, left 79 dead including 14 in the Moslem holy city of Qum to the south.

Rioters were protesting the shah's program, endorsed by an overwhelming majority of Iranians, for distributing land to poor peasants.

Troops sealed off Tehran's only public cemetery to prevent new demonstrations during the hurried burials of the riot victims.

They also closed off small areas around government buildings after troops had to fire in the air to repel a mob attacking the radio station for the third day in a row. Some of the attackers were dressed in white shrouds as a sign of defiance.

Such mobs, recruited in the bazaars, are available to anyone who can pay them, and for almost any cause.

Knots of them made ineffectual attacks Thursday against three telephone exchanges.

U.S. officials said a jeep belonging to the American military advisory mission was stoned as it drove past Tehran University but no one was injured. Two jeeps were stoned the day before and rioters damaged the Iranian-American student center.

U.S. District Judge Dies At Fairmont

FAIRMONT, W. Va. (UPI) — U. S. District Court Judge Harry Watkins was fatally stricken with a heart attack here Thursday evening shortly after addressing the Marion County Bar Association.

Officials said Watkins who served as judge of the northern and southern districts of West Virginia, was talking with a group of friends outside the Town House Motel, where the dinner was held, when he collapsed and died almost instantly.

A spokesman said two physicians who lived near the motel were called but were unable to revive the 64-year-old Watkins.

A Marion County native, Watkins was born at Watson on Nov. 6, 1898, and spent his early childhood at Monongah.

Negro Greeted By Newcomer McDowell

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — James H. Meredith, the University of Mississippi's first Negro student, registered for the summer session Thursday.

The 29-year-old senior arrived from Jackson, Miss., to find things a bit different than they were during the long and lonely winter session.

The dormitory quarters included another Negro student, Cleve McDowell, 21.

Meredith, drove his little foreign car by the Law College to pick up McDowell, who had just completed his first class at Ole Miss.

McDowell, coatless with a white shirt and dark tie, had walked to the Law School building unaccompanied — although U.S. marshals watched from a few hundred feet away.

In a television talk Wednesday at Jackson, Gov. Ross R. Barnett said the might of the U.S. government got McDowell into Ole Miss and is now responsibile for his safety.

At Baxter Hall, the men's dormitory where both were assigned, McDowell helped Meredith carry his belongings to his room.

Both were ignored by most white students. Some 2,000 of them are expected to register for the summer session—about half of the student population during the fall and spring sessions.

Many incoming students are teachers and others working for higher degrees, which raises the average campus age level and is expected to lead to a relatively calm summer.

McDowell passed through registration Wednesday without incident. He said he didn't even hear a rude remark during the process.

When Meredith first arrived on campus last fall, protected by some 400 marshals, it sparked a campus riot that left two men dead and scores wounded.

Throughout the regular school year, Meredith was accompanied by marshals when he moved about the campus.

Of the some 20,000 troops sent into the Oxford area after the riot, 300 remain on duty as permanent guards at Baxter Hall and to assist the marshals.

Grass Roots Racial Peace Drive Urged

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration hopes for a vast grass roots movement of racial conciliation to head off a possible wave of bloody race riots in the North and South this summer.

This word came Thursday from a source in close touch with administration planning.

President Kennedy, this informant said, intends to fight hard for new civil rights legislation.

"It will be a tough fight," he said. "But we feel more people are aroused now and we have a greater chance of getting legislation than we had last year. At any rate, we can't just sit here and be impotent. We have to demonstrate we are acting."

But the federal government cannot do the job alone, he said. It is up to governors, mayors, clergymen, educators, newspaper publishers and other civic leaders to sit down with Negroes, demonstrate interest in their condition, and show them definite signs of progress.

Trip For Johnson

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—The White House announced Thursday that Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson will make an extensive tour of Scandinavia next September.

The vice president, accompanied by his wife, will serve as the personal representative of President Kennedy in visiting Denmark, Norway, Iceland, Sweden and Finland.

Kennedy To Use Troops, If Necessary, At U. Of Ala.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's strategy for the University of Alabama racial crisis unfolded Thursday:

Force to the utmost if needed, but the administration fervently hopes that no force whatever will be necessary.

A high source attuned to the administration's thinking said:

1. Everybody, including the defiant Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama, knows that three Negroes are going to be enrolled in the university. But Wallace has pledged to stand in the doorway to prevent desegregation when the showdown comes, presumably next Monday.

2. If Wallace surrounds himself with, say, 500 state troopers, and an approximately equal force of federal marshals faces the troopers, there will be "no shoving match" between the two armed forces. "Somebody could really get hurt then," the Kennedy administration source said.

3. But the Negroes must be admitted, the source said, and he indicated that an overwhelming federal force, presumably troops, would be brought in, if necessary.

The source stressed over and over that the question of the use of troops is not up to the federal government but to the governor, who is under a federal court injunction not to interfere with desegregation.

"I don't know at this moment," the administration source said, "just how the students are going to get in, but they are going to get in."

Mindszenty Will Remain In U.S. Refuge

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—A high Catholic source said Thursday Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty has apparently decided to remain in the U.S. legation here for the time being and not to take part in the Vatican conclave for the election of a new Pope.

The Hungarian government, however, appeared eager to have the 71-year-old cardinal out of the country.

Some reports pictured Cardinal Mindszenty, who has been in refuge in the U.S. legation since the Russians smashed the Hungarian uprising in 1956, as still considering himself a symbol of living resistance to Communist oppression.

In this role, these reports said, the cardinal feels that his mere presence here serves as an instrument of pressure upon the regime which could help the church obtain more latitude in its activities.

Cardinal Mindszenty may have been about ready to defer to the wishes of the late Pope John XXIII to go to Rome to accept a high Vatican post, but he now may be waiting to learn the views of the new Pope before taking any action, some observers said.

U.S. Sends Copter Over East Berlin

BERLIN (UPI) — The United States Army sent a helicopter over East Berlin Thursday in defiance of a Soviet protest and a shadowing by a Red jet fighter.

American officials said the flights will continue as a demonstration of allied rights to fly anywhere over both sides of the divided city.

The Soviets sent up a jet to shadow the helicopter on its 16-minute flight. The fighter stayed a safe distance and did not attempt to harass the copter, American officials said.

Venezuela Police Seek Eight Pro-Red Terrorists For U.S. Mission Attack

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Hundreds of Venezuelan police sought eight pro-Communists who Wednesday burned the U.S. Army mission, stripped occupants to their shorts and knifed a portrait of George Washington.

Three youths found loitering around the fire-blackened remains of the rambling, one-story Spanish colonial building were arrested for questioning. One had fresh paint on his hands, possibly the paint used to smear the mission walls with the initials FALN.

FALN stands for the Armed Forces of National Liberation, a leftist, pro-Castro underground movement campaigning to overthrow President Romulo Betancourt with terrorist attacks on government and business installations.

Defense Minister Antonio Briceno Limares called on U.S. Ambassador C. Allan Stewart and expressed official regret.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman said the loss was small. The building was leased from the Venezuelan armed forces.

The eight raiders burned the mission's American flag in the attack and hoisted the black standard of the FALN while denouncing what they called Yankee imperialism. They wrecked files and destroyed office equipment.

"We won't hurt you, but next time you won't be so lucky," an English-speaking member of the group told three U.S. Army officers and four sergeants headed by Col. J. K. Chenault, 46, deputy chief of the mission.

Surprised with the American military men were Chenault's 15-year-old son and six Venezuelans —four National Guardsmen posted with submachine guns at the entrance and two civilian employes.

The Americans were not armed.

Oil Tax Boost Plan Rejected

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee voted Thursday to leave untouched the 27½ per cent depletion allowance the oil and gas industry uses in computing income taxes.

The committee, rewriting President Kennedy's tax reduction and revision bill, turned down three administration proposals that would have hiked the industry's tax bill by amounts estimated up to $280 million a year.

The committee decision leaves out of the draft bill any changes in depletion allowance on other minerals as well as oil and gas.

The revisions advocated by the administration were fought hard at committee hearings and elsewhere by industry spokesmen who said the financial burden would drastically curtail exploration for petroleum in this country and put American companies operating abroad at a crippling competitive disadvantage.

Blind Boy Meets JFK, Is Invited To White House

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—The dream of a lifetime came true Thursday for 11-year-old Joey Renzi when he shook hands with President Kennedy, and received an invitation to visit the White House.

Joey has been blind since birth. But he started a correspondence with the President, using his Braille typewriter, in 1961. On Saturday, the Secret Service informed him the President would see him during a visit here Thursday.

The noise of the President's helicopter made it difficult to hear the conversation between the President and the boy, but Joey obliged later with a full report.

"I said hello, and the President said, 'hello,' " said Joey.

"The President said, 'I hope you can come to the White House some time.' I said, yes, I hope I can.

"Then we shook hands. And we said goodbye."

He said Kennedy "must be a handsome, real nice guy. He has a strong grip."

The President and the boy also made an exchange of tokens.

Joey handed the President a letter from his Braile typewriter and a copy on a regular typewritten page. The President gave his young friend a PT boat tie bar, and identical presents for his younger brothers, Johnny, 9, and Jimmy, 5.

Value Of Boykin Land Figuring In Trial Argued

BALTIMORE (AP) — A Washington mortgage banker and real estate appraiser testified Thursday he figured a tract of land owned in southern Maryland by Frank W. Boykin, former Democratic congressman from Alabama, is worth a maximum of $500 an acre.

There are 8,000 acres and the estimate by George W. DeFranceaux amounted to a total of $4 million.

An appraiser for the defense earlier had estimated at the conspiracy trial of Boykin and three others that the land was worth $11.3 million.

The value of the undeveloped land has become an argumentative point in the closing days of the trial now in its 10th week.

Boykin claims the $125,000 he was paid by J. Kenneth Edlin, savings and loan association operator from Miami, in 1961 was a legitimate payment in which Edlin took over a $6 million mortgage on the land.

The government contends the property price was inflated and that the money paid Boykin was part of a deal in which the congressman was to use his influence with the Justice Department to dismiss a 1959 mail fraud indictment of Edlin.

Thomas F. Johnson, Democratic congressman from Maryland at the same time, also is being tried on charges of receiving money from Edlin interests to exercise his influence. Johnson has tried to show the payments were in return for legal services.

De Franceaux and Marion Cox, a Baltimore appraiser, were the last two rebuttal witnesses called by the government. The cross examination of Cox was continued to Monday after which final arguments will be made to the jury.

In addition to Boykin, Johnson and Edlin, a Miami lawyer for Edlin, William L. Robinson, also is accused in the conspiracy to deprive the federal government of its right to conduct its business without undue interference.

100,000 Alcoholics In Nation's Capital

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — A District of Columbia official says there are an estimated 100,000 alcolics in the nation's capital.

Edward W. Soden, supervisor of alcoholic rehabilitation for the District Probation Department, told a federal-state workshop on alcoholic rehabilitation that his estimate included not only permanent residents of Washington but also thousands of transients who use the capital as a stopping point.

Soden said the primary job of his unit was to prevent arrested drunks from becoming arrested alcoholics.

"Of all the diseases," he said, "alcoholism is the one most likely to be mislabeled, to be denied or to be hidden." Too often, he said, it is not recognized by others or admitted by the victim until it has grown to such proportions that it can no longer be denied.

Md.-D.C. Postmen Meet In Annapolis

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Some 20 postmen will meet here this weekend for the 19th biennial convention of the Maryland State-Washington, D.C., Association of Letter Carriers.

President Kennedy's executive order of Jan. 17, 1962, giving postal unions the right to negotiate with the post office will be among topics discussed at sessions Saturday and Sunday.

State Checking Petitions Against Equal Rights Bill

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The secretary of state's office began Thursday a name-by-name check of petitions filed against Maryland's public accommodations bill.

If staff members uncover errors in anything approaching the amount claimed by civil rights groups, the drive to put the act on the November, 1964, ballot will be invalidated.

Secretary of State Lloyd L. Simpkins said the petition checking won't be completed by his office before the middle of next week.

Meanwhile, he approved petitions against four local bills as having met the June 1 preliminary requirements for referendum.

These relate to sheriff's offices in Cecil and St. Marys counties, primary election filing by school board candidates in Montgomery, and creation of a People's Court in Howard County.

The secretary's staff found that all of these petitions contained a sufficient number of signatures—valid on their face—to suspend the laws as a step toward putting them on referendum.

State law requires that half of the signatures needed to force a referendum must be filed by June 1 with the remainder due before July 1. On a local bill the total required is 10 per cent of the number who voted for governor in the county in 1962. On a statewide bill, the number required is 3 per cent, or 23,080 based on last year's statewide vote.

Petitions on the public accommodations bill contained 12,325 signature only 824 more than required by June 1 if all were valid. The civil rights groups led by Baltimore attorney Hyman Pressman claimed they spotted more than 1,500 errors on their first day of checking.

In determining whether the June 1 requirement was properly met, the secretary's office will not count any petition sheet that does not contain a properly executed affidavit that the circulator knew the persons to be registered voters. It also will not count any name which does not contain both signature and printed name of the registered voter, his address and his voting precinct.

West Va. Plane Hunt Continues

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The West Virginia Wing of the Civil Air Patrol Thursday continued a search of central West Virginia for a private airplane missing since Monday with two men aboard.

CAP search headquarters here said a report Thursday that the two men were found alive near Mt. Zion, Calhoun County, apparently was groundless. A spokesman said as many as seven airplanes searched the area and ground units contacted various officials without finding any trace of the craft.

The plane, missing on a flight from Roanoke, Va., to Alliance, Ohio, was carrying pilot Vernon Pelizaari, 51, of Sebring, Ohio, and Edward Beltrami, 50, of Alliance. The flight originated in Hollywood Park, Fla., with Roanoke as its last stop before it disappeared.

Underground A-Shots

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission announced Thursday two more underground nuclear tests at its Nevada test site, bringing to 66 the number of announced tests there since September 1961.

Radiation Research Grants Given Hopkins

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two new research programs, one to study the effects of radiation at the cellular level and the other aimed at adapting for biological use the large number of radioactive elements available, will be federally supported at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore.

Announcing this Thursday, the public health service said it has awarded grants of $312,878 and $146,316, respectively, for the first year of work of anticipated five-year programs.

"The importance of extending our knowledge about the effects of radiation on human beings cannot be exaggerated," said Dr. Clinton C. Powell, director of the National Institute of General Medical Sciences.

U.S. Will Borrow To Cover Deficit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Treasury Department Thursday announced plans to borrow $1.25 billion as the first step in its program to finance the $11.8 billion deficit expected during fiscal year 1964.

The government disclosed a $1.25 billion seven-year, two-month bond carrying a 4 per cent coupon at par.

The Treasury said the offering would be made for cash subscription one day only on June 11. Payment will be due June 20 and may be through credit to Treasury tax and loan accounts, according to the announcement.

It said the Treasury reserved the right to allot up to $50 million of the bonds to government investment accounts.

De Franceaux and Marion Cox, a Baltimore appraiser, were the last two rebuttal witnesses called by the government. The cross examination of Cox was continued to Monday after which final arguments will be made to the jury.

In addition to Boykin, Johnson and Edlin, a Miami lawyer for Edlin, William L. Robinson, also is accused in the conspiracy to deprive the federal government of its right to conduct its business without undue interference.

100,000 Alcoholics In Nation's Capital

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — A District of Columbia official says there are an estimated 100,000 alcolics in the nation's capital.

Edward W. Soden, supervisor of alcoholic rehabilitation for the District Probation Department, told a federal-state workshop on alcoholic rehabilitation that his estimate included not only permanent residents of Washington but also thousands of transients who use the capital as a stopping point.

Soden said the primary job of his unit was to prevent arrested drunks from becoming arrested alcoholics.

"Of all the diseases," he said, "alcoholism is the one most likely to be mislabeled, to be denied or to be hidden." Too often, he said, it is not recognized by others or admitted by the victim until it has grown to such proportions that it can no longer be denied.

Md.-D.C. Postmen Meet In Annapolis

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Some 20 postmen will meet here this weekend for the 19th biennial convention of the Maryland State-Washington, D.C., Association of Letter Carriers.

President Kennedy's executive order of Jan. 17, 1962, giving postal unions the right to negotiate with the post office will be among topics discussed at sessions Saturday and Sunday.

State Checking Petitions Against Equal Rights Bill

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The secretary of state's office began Thursday a name-by-name check of petitions filed against Maryland's public accommodations bill.

If staff members uncover errors in anything approaching the amount claimed by civil rights groups, the drive to put the act on the November, 1964, ballot will be invalidated.

Secretary of State Lloyd L. Simpkins said the petition checking won't be completed by his office before the middle of next week.

Meanwhile, he approved petitions against four local bills as having met the June 1 preliminary requirements for referendum.

These relate to sheriff's offices in Cecil and St. Marys counties, primary election filing by school board candidates in Montgomery, and creation of a People's Court in Howard County.

The secretary's staff found that all of these petitions contained a sufficient number of signatures—valid on their face—to suspend the laws as a step toward putting them on referendum.

State law requires that half of the signatures needed to force a referendum must be filed by June 1 with the remainder due before July 1. On a local bill the total required is 10 per cent of the number who voted for governor in the county in 1962. On a statewide bill, the number required is 3 per cent, or 23,080 based on last year's statewide vote.

Petitions on the public accommodations bill contained 12,325 signature only 824 more than required by June 1 if all were valid. The civil rights groups led by Baltimore attorney Hyman Pressman claimed they spotted more than 1,500 errors on their first day of checking.

In determining whether the June 1 requirement was properly met, the secretary's office will not count any petition sheet that does not contain a properly executed affidavit that the circulator knew the persons to be registered voters. It also will not count any name which does not contain both signature and printed name of the registered voter, his address and his voting precinct.

West Va. Plane Hunt Continues

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The West Virginia Wing of the Civil Air Patrol Thursday continued a search of central West Virginia for a private airplane missing since Monday with two men aboard.

CAP search headquarters here said a report Thursday that the two men were found alive near Mt. Zion, Calhoun County, apparently was groundless. A spokesman said as many as seven airplanes searched the area and ground units contacted various officials without finding any trace of the craft.

The plane, missing on a flight from Roanoke, Va., to Alliance, Ohio, was carrying pilot Vernon Pelizaari, 51, of Sebring, Ohio, and Edward Beltrami, 50, of Alliance. The flight originated in Hollywood Park, Fla., with Roanoke as its last stop before it disappeared.

Underground A-Shots

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission announced Thursday two more underground nuclear tests at its Nevada test site, bringing to 66 the number of announced tests there since September 1961.

Radiation Research Grants Given Hopkins

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two new research programs, one to study the effects of radiation at the cellular level and the other aimed at adapting for biological use the large number of radioactive elements available, will be federally supported at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore.

Announcing this Thursday, the public health service said it has awarded grants of $312,878 and $146,316, respectively, for the first year of work of anticipated five-year programs.

"The importance of extending our knowledge about the effects of radiation on human beings cannot be exaggerated," said Dr. Clinton C. Powell, director of the National Institute of General Medical Sciences.

Chile has a greater inhabited longitudinal area than any other country in the world.

U.S. Will Borrow To Cover Deficit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Treasury Department Thursday announced plans to borrow $1.25 billion as the first step in its program to finance the $11.8 billion deficit expected during fiscal year 1964.

The government disclosed a $1.25 billion seven-year, two-month bond carrying a 4 per cent coupon at par.

The Treasury said the offering would be made for cash subscription one day only on June 11. Payment will be due June 20 and may be through credit to Treasury tax and loan accounts, according to the announcement.

It said the Treasury reserved the right to allot up to $50 million of the bonds to government investment accounts.

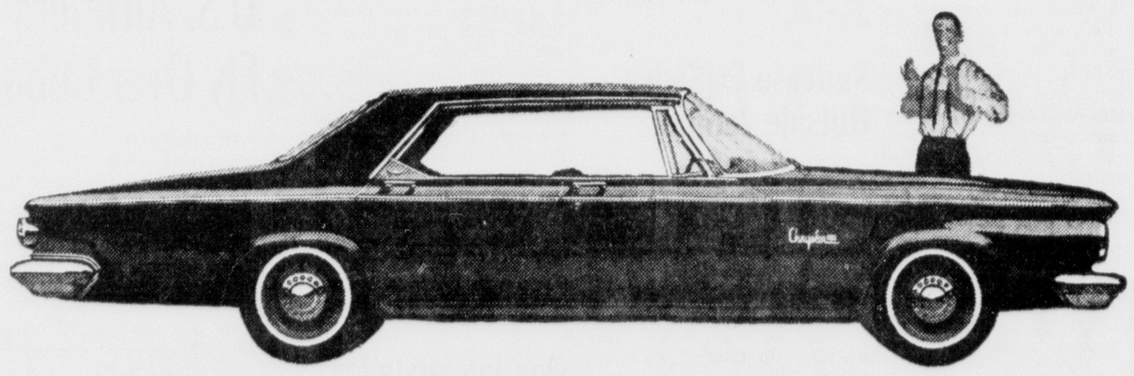
HOW'S THIS FOR OWNER SATISFACTION?



91.3 PERCENT OF '63 CHRYSLER OWNERS INTERVIEWED BY A NATIONAL MAGAZINE† SAID THEY WOULD BUY CHRYSLER AGAIN. IT'S BEEN EIGHT YEARS SINCE ANY CAR WAS SO WELL LIKED BY THE PEOPLE WHO BOUGHT IT.

Why? Riding comfort. Handling ease. Power and performance. Clean, crisp styling. These things were named after a total of 1,297,466 owner driven miles, as the outstanding reasons for this overwhelming approval of the '63 Chrysler.

The 5-year or 50,000-mile warranty*—America's longest new-car warranty—was the deciding factor for many owners when they were choosing between a '63 Chrysler and other medium-priced cars.

If you haven't driven a Chrysler recently, why not take an hour today or tomorrow, and give a '63 Chrysler a thorough going-over. You'll find your Chrysler dealer's deal will be just as favorable as your rating of Chrysler. †Name on request.

*Your authorized Chrysler Dealer's Warranty against defects in material and workmanship on 1963 cars has been expanded to include parts replacement or repair, without charge for required parts or labor, for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first, on the engine block, head and internal parts; transmission case and internal parts (excluding manual clutch); torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints (excluding dust covers), rear axle and differential, and rear wheel bearings, provided the vehicle has been serviced at reasonable intervals according to the Chrysler Certified Car Care schedules.

Hearing For Two Negroes Continued

By The Associated Press

A hearing for two juveniles arrested during racial demonstrations in Cambridge has been continued until 11 a.m. Monday after a 3½-hour session Thursday.

The hearing for the boy and girl was closed. Afterward, Judge E. McMaster Duer said it would be continued Monday.

Both juveniles are represented by Tucker Dearing of Baltimore, an attorney for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Also attending Thursday's hearing were State's Attorney C. Burnham Mace, the children's parents and juvenile officers.

The juveniles were among five Negroes charged with disorderly conduct after they prayed in front of the Recreation Center in Cambridge on Memorial Day.

The girl also had been held on the ground of general delinquency. Cambridge police said she had been arrested in previous demonstrations, and had a record of school absenteeism.

Meanwhile, an integrationist leader said limited demonstrations would begin immediately in Cambridge because of a lack of real progress in improving racial equality.

Mrs. Gloria Richardson, chairman of the Cambridge Nonviolent Action Committee, said the group's executive committee decided to renew picketing but there would be no sit-in demonstrations.

Mrs. Richardson said the limited picketing was not to be considered a rejection of a two-week moratorium on demonstrations proposed by the Maryland Commission on Interracial Problems and Relations.

"There has been no real progress, none at all," she said. "Quite a few of our people felt we should not have stopped picketing the last time."

The Cambridge Nonviolent Action Committee will consider stopping the picketing, Mrs. Richardson said, after a meeting set for Monday with the state group and the Cambridge Committee on Interracial Understanding.

Methodists Told Church Facing Crisis In Faith

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP) — An official of a Methodist seminary said Thursday that the church is in trouble — partly because of its worldliness, but essentially because of the crisis which confronts it in faith.

"We do not know what we believe," said Dr. William E. Smith, vice president of the Wesley Theological Seminary in Washington, D.C.

Dr. Smith said lives are molded more by the world than by the church because this is a secular world. Christians, he said, have these alternatives: Worship technology, or accept its products and advances as gifts of God.

Dr. Smith addressed a session of the Woman's Society of Christian Service attended by about 500 women at the Baltimore Annual Conference of the Methodist Church.

The conference opened Wednesday on the Western Maryland College campus and closes Sunday.

Mrs. Leonard N. Sowards of Fairfax, Va., who presided at the meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, said the group now includes 492 societies with a membership of 33,388 in Maryland. Members have pledged $145,000 for the year and paid out $176,952 for mission work, she said.

Baltimore Mayor Theodore R. McKeldin, a former governor of Maryland, was the speaker for an evening dinner of the Mutual Relief Society.

Stripper Given Life Sentence

BALTIMORE (AP) — Maxine Gross, strip tease dancer convicted of first-degree murder in the slaying of a Filipino physician, was sentenced Thursday to life imprisonment in the Institution for Women at Jessup.

The sentence imposed by Judges Reuben Oppenheimer and James Cullen was automatic because the judges did not recommend capital punishment when they convicted her May 29 in Youth Court.

Miss Gross, 21, was convicted in the death last November of Dr. DeoGracias DeLeon, 29, chief resident in obstetrics and gynecology at St. Joseph's Hospital in Baltimore.

Negroes To Be Served

SEAFORD, Del. (AP) — Mayor W. Joseph Williams says restaurant owners in Seaford have agreed to serve Negroes and he plans to appoint a biracial committee soon.

University Senior Dies In Auto Crash

WHEATON, Md. (AP) — Lambert Hubert Spronck, 21, of Hicksville, N.Y., was fatally injured Wednesday night when his car skidded off Maryland 182 in Montgomery County and struck a utility pole.

Spronck, a Georgetown University senior who was to have been graduated next Monday, was pronounced dead at Holy Cross Hospital in Silver Spring.

Man Charged In Wife's Slaying

BALTIMORE (AP)—Mrs. Elsie Tysor, 65, of suburban Middle River, was killed by a shotgun blast Thursday as she stood in the kitchen of her home.

Baltimore County police charged her husband, John, 67, with the slaying.

Lt. Joseph Kaminski of the Homicide Squad said the couple had argued Wednesday night about what to do about a 39-year-old son living with them. Tysor is a handyman and gardener at the Riverdale Apartments in Middle River.

No Target Practice

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A local department store has a new gift for the motorist who has everything—the "turnpike toll gun," which looks like a real gun but is loaded with coins instead of bullets for easy firing into automatic toll baskets.

Two cautions: Don't let Junior take it for target practice; and don't aim it at a toll-gate attendant instead of an automatic basket. He might call the cops!

Astronauts' Physician Urges Another Mercury Space Flight

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI) — Just how much will prolonged weightlessness affect astronauts of the future?

The physician assigned to the U.S. manned space program, Dr. Charles A. Berry, believes the United States does not know enough about this question.

For that reason he seems to feel that this country should undertake another Project Mercury orbital flight, longer than the 34-hour journey of L. Gordon Cooper last month.

In an interview at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) Manned Spacecraft Center, Dr. Berry said there is no reason to believe that man can't fly in space, "But we still don't know whether zero gravity will be a problem."

Therefore, he said, the time had come to commit men to longer flights.

The physician, medical operations chief at the Manned Spacecraft Center, spoke of two possible effects of weightlessness that might be of concern on long flights.

One is a loss of calcium in the bones and its "mobilization" in the blood and urine. Dr. Berry said space officials should be able to learn what the problem would be over a long period, perhaps when an astronaut was on a space station.

Another possible effect is hypotension, a sort of dizziness like that which affects people who get up after being bedridden.

Dr. Berry said he was convinced that astronauts can sleep in a weightless environment, noting that Cooper slept for about six hours during a series of naps.

Spacecraft center officials are conferring with NASA heads in Washington this week on whether another Mercury flight should be held before the United States goes into the two-man Gemini flights late next year or early in 1965.

This flight, if ordered, would be an "open end" mission in which the astronaut would stay aloft as long as he could.

Movie Veteran Dies

SILVER SPRINGS, Fla. (AP)—A veteran of many Tarzan movies is dead. Sadie, a 33-year-old rhesus monkey, suffered a stroke one day and died the next. She was one of a colony of monkeys living wild on the banks of the Silver River, seen by countless numbers of tourists boating on the river.

No Target Practice

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A local department store has a new gift for the motorist who has everything—the "turnpike toll gun," which looks like a real gun but is loaded with coins instead of bullets for easy firing into automatic toll baskets.

Two cautions: Don't let Junior take it for target practice; and don't aim it at a toll-gate attendant instead of an automatic basket. He might call the cops!

Astronauts' Physician Urges Another Mercury Space Flight

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI) — Just how much will prolonged weightlessness affect astronauts of the future?

The physician assigned to the U.S. manned space program, Dr. Charles A. Berry, believes the United States does not know enough about this question.

For that reason he seems to feel that this country should undertake another Project Mercury orbital flight, longer than the 34-hour journey of L. Gordon Cooper last month.

In an interview at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) Manned Spacecraft Center, Dr. Berry said there is no reason to believe that man can't fly in space, "But we still don't know whether zero gravity will be a problem."

Therefore, he said, the time had come to commit men to longer flights.

The physician, medical operations chief at the Manned Spacecraft Center, spoke of two possible effects of weightlessness that might be of concern on long flights.

One is a loss of calcium in the bones and its "mobilization" in the blood and urine. Dr. Berry said space officials should be able to learn what the problem would be over a long period, perhaps when an astronaut was on a space station.

Another possible effect is hypotension, a sort of dizziness like that which affects people who get up after being bedridden.

Dr. Berry said he was convinced that astronauts can sleep in a weightless environment, noting that Cooper slept for about six hours during a series of naps.

Spacecraft center officials are conferring with NASA heads in Washington this week on whether another Mercury flight should be held before the United States goes into the two-man Gemini flights late next year or early in 1965.

This flight, if ordered, would be an "open end" mission in which the astronaut would stay aloft as long as he could.

Movie Veteran Dies

SILVER SPRINGS, Fla. (AP)—A veteran of many Tarzan movies is dead. Sadie, a 33-year-old rhesus monkey, suffered a stroke one day and died the next. She was one of a colony of monkeys living wild on the banks of the Silver River, seen by countless numbers of tourists boating on the river.

By JOHN D. PARRY

GENEVA (UPI)—The Soviet Union has launched a major offensive here to win the support of the world's non-aligned countries for a major program of Communist trade expansion.

The Soviets and their allies served notice at sessions of the preparatory committee of the United Nations World Trade Conference that they intend to press hard for creation of an international trade organization which would supersede the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT)—and, hopefully, even the European Common Market and the European Free Trade Area.

Soviet Delegate M. S. Borisov said at a session of the committee on May 24 that the Western powers were pursuing a "deliberately obstructive" trade policy designed to starve the Communist bloc nations out of the lucrative trading markets of Africa and Asia.

He hinted that later in the conference he would call for the widening of GATT into a looser organization to take in countries on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

At the present time only Poland and Czechoslovakia are members of GATT, although Yugoslavia has a form of loose arrangement with the organization. No other Communist states ever have been asked to join or have expressed much interest in doing so.

Western sources here felt, however, that Borisov's remarks were the preparatory shots in a barrage against GATT, which last month concluded the most important ministerial meeting in its history.

Trade ministers of 50 GATT member nations agreed at that meeting on resolutions to permit the nations of the free world to go ahead with tariff-cutting negotiations later this year—the so-called "Kennedy round" of talks.

The meeting patched up a compromise between the United States and the European Common Market on the question of tariffs, and also promised more aid from industrial to less-developed nations—although remaining vague on how this should be done.

The GATT meeting was attacked in the Soviet press, which charged that its sole purpose was to keep the Soviets out of the world's developing markets.

Borisov called for "normalization" of East-West trade exchanges under some loose form of supranational supervision.

The United States, whose delegation at the conference was headed by Isiah Frank, deputy assistant secretary of state for economic affairs, did not immediately indicate what it thought of the Soviet plan for a world trade body.

But informed sources said the U.S. government was not too enthusiastic toward the plan, seeing it as the thin end of a Soviet wedge which could be driven in between the GATT partners and which would rob that organization of much of its effectiveness.

Thirty-two nations, chosen on a representative regional basis, are attending the conference here. It will continue until June 26, planning an agenda for the trade conference scheduled for early next year.

Loses In Translation

BELGRADE (AP) — "Madame Butterfly," an Italian opera about a Japanese girl in love with an American naval officer, is causing some woes in this Yugoslav capital.

Belgrade's opera company staged it recently in the original Italian instead of the usual Serbo-Croat translation. Critics complained that in the mouths of Yugoslav singers, the Italian words sounded terrible.

"Can you imagine Italians singing 'Boris Godunof' in Russian, or 'The Bartered Bride' in Czech?" asked one paper indignantly.

Really Old Friends

BINGHAMTON, N. Y. (AP) — They've known each other only four years, but still Augustus Lewis can boast that Albert P. Davis is the oldest friend he has.

Lewis is 104 years old and so is Davis. Their friendship began shortly after Lewis' 100th birthday. Davis read a newspaper account of his contemporary's birthday and paid him a visit. They have been exchanging messages and visits since then.

Who, Me?

FREEPORT, N. Y. (AP) — The meeting was about to start, but first the chairman had an announcement to make about a car blocking the parking lot entrance. He read off the license number.

Nobody budged. Irritated, he repeated the request and declared that the proceedings would be delayed until the car was moved. He gave the license number again, then suddenly turned crimson. It was his car.

1 To this day, the ancient pot still method is used in distilling Gordon's Gin. 2 Only gin from the heart of the run is bottled for Gordon's. 3 Gordon's uses only juniper berries and other choice botanicals aged to the peak of maturity. 4 Gordon's is extraordinarily dry. 5 Gordon's has a distinctively delicate flavour. 6 Gordon's maintains its exceptional quality because it still harks back to Alexander Gordon's original formula created in England in 1769. Reasons enough for enjoying a Glorious Gordon's Martini soon, wouldn't you say?

Minister Named Conference Delegate

Rev. Dr. John Bayley Jones, former pastor of First Methodist Church, Frostburg, and presently superintendent of the Baltimore South District of the Methodist Church, has been named as one of the ministerial delegates to the General Conference of the church in Pittsburgh next April.

Announcement of the election of ministerial and lay delegates to the conference highlighted the opening session of the 179th Baltimore Annual Conference of Methodist Churches in Baltimore.

Named as ministerial delegate with Rev. Dr. Jones was Rev. Dr. Marion Michael, superintendent of Washington East.

Rev. Dr. Jones served six years as pastor of Frostburg's First Church, leaving that post in 1955.

The four laymen chosen were Mrs. Leonard Sawards of Washington; Carroll Beatty of Washington; Harry Schuh of Baltimore and D. Stewart Patterson of Washington. Two other laymen delegates remain to be selected.

Dr. Jones, who gave the superintendent of the Hagerstown Disday night meeting, announced that the Rev. Dr. Paul Warner, superingendent of the Hagerstown District, will leave shortly for Okinawa to supervise work of the Protestant churches in the mission field there.

A resolution expressing sympathy the death of Pope John XXIII also was passed at the opening session of the conference.

The resolution, presented by the Rev. R. Bruce Pointer, pastor of the University Methodist Church in College Park, called the pope a man "of extraordinary vision and of deep understanding and compassion for all men."

The 179th conference voted to "extend to our brethren of the Roman Catholic Communion our profound sympathy in this time of sorrow at the loss of their spiritual leader and our brother in Christ. . ."

The five-day conference opened earlier in the day on the grounds of Western Maryland College with Holy Communion and a memorial service in the Baker Memorial Chapel. Bishop John Wesley Lord presided.

Famed Lacey Troupe Will Appear With Circus Here

Spotlights dim briefly, then suddenly they are turned on again, shedding their radiance on four women and a lone man standing in the middle ring.

There is a momentary pause and they wait expectantly as the band rolls up a dramatic march, building a crescendo of sound, higher and higher . . . then silence.

The act begins.

Imported from Europe by George A. Hamid, the famed Lacey Troupe will thrill local audiences as part of the big all-new Hamid-Morton international circus coming to the Cumberland Fairgrounds June 14, 15 and 16 under the sponsorship of Ali Ghan Shrine Temple.

Utilizing special rolling globes, they balance themselves on elevated platforms while doing a dazzling array of juggling numbers unique in their field. Requiring great skill and strong patience, each routine took weeks to perfect, and only now are they considered good enough for presentation.

Veterans of the French International in Paris, guests on a Bob Hope television show and a number of other engagements, this very special troupe is calculated to thrill and amaze the beholders.

More than 20,000 tri-state area circus lovers are expected at the Cumberland Fairgrounds for the six gigantic open-air Hamid-Morton performances of the Lacey Troue.

Tickets for the internationally-famous show, featuring many of Europe's top stars, are available from Ali Ghan Shrine unit members, at numerous tri-state area commercial establishments, and at the downtown Shrine ticket office, 131 Baltimore Street, where general admission tickets also can be exchanged for reserved section tickets.

Terra Alta Woman Going To Borneo

Miss Robert Fries, Terra Alta, was presented to Bishop Newall S. Booth from the Congo for commissioning as a missionary during the opening of the 25th annual West Virginia Conference of the Methodist Church at Buckhannon, Wednesday.

Miss Fries plans to leave for Borneo in September.

Two Methodist Church leaders touched on racial discrimination yesterday at West Virginia Wesleyan College.

Buckhannon district superintendent John E. Hanifan said Christianity "is brotherhood...human justice demands equal rights and justice." He noted that only a "small number of churches welcome Negroes now" even though the church's General Conference ruled in 1952 that no discrimination should be permitted in Methodist Churches.

District superintendents went on record as urging "equal rights and justice" for Negroes. Delegates also expressed opposition to professional boxing because "many deaths and injuries have occurred recently from his sport."

Bishop Newall S. Booth from the Congo told the group that the effect of the Voice of America "has been hurt due to racial unrest in the United States." Bishop Booth called the problem "a type of social disease" and said "we try to remedy the results but will not tackle the cause with our own lives."

Bishop Booth said 45 per cent of the Congolese are members of Christian churches. Earlier, West Virginia Bishop Fred G. Holloway said that only 30 per cent of the people in the Mountain State belong to a church.

The conference, with some 1,200 delegates in attendance, is scheduled to end Sunday.

Balloting began during the opening day on the election of six ministerial and six lay delegates to the General Conference of the church, slated to open next April 26 in Pittsburgh.

One of the first orders of business Wednesday was the presentation of 19 men received on trial by the conference and 25 candidates for admission to full connection with the conference.

A motion also was approved that the conference write the Methodist Council of Bishops requesting that Bishop Holloway not be moved from the Mountain State.

Million Sick Workers

CHICAGO (UPI)—On an average day this month, more than one million workers will be at home sick, the Health Insurance Institute said Wednesday.

June generally is the healthiest month of the year in terms of persons being absent from work because of illness. In 7 of the last 10 years, June had the lowest percentage figure of absenteeism, the institute said.

Last June, some 1,110,000 employes were not on the job on an average day because of illness.

If June is the healthiest month, February is "sickest" month of the year.

Seabees To Improve Girls' Camp

A number of improvements at Camp Tioga, Shawnee Girl Scout Council camp near Flintstone, will be completed this weekend by Naval Reserve Construction Battalion Division 5-7.

Cmdr. Gerald P. Calhoun, commanding officer of the Seabee group, said the rated men in his outfit will complete construction of tent platforms for the summer camping season on Saturday and Sunday.

Preliminary work on the program was completed last month, according to Cmdr. Calhoun, who said this is the second year in which his unit has worked on improvements at the Girl Scout camp.

Last year, three troop kitchens were erected at the site, with the Cumberland Lions Club contributing funds for the purchase of the necessary materials.

Lt. Cmdr. William C. Hall, executive officer of CB Division 5-7, will be in charge of the weekend project in which nearly 40 members of the outfit will participate.

The non-rated personnel, recruits and apprentices, will be on duty at the Naval Armory, Cmdr Calhoun said, explaining that those men are completing courses of instruction prior to examination for advancement.

The local Seabee unit ranks first among the 224 CB divisions in the country, Cmdr. Calhoun reports, adding that if his unit keeps that ranking through June 30 it will be the recipient of the J. J. Manning trophy, emblematic of the nation's "No. 1 CB Division."

The Girl Scout camp project will help accumulate points toward that achievement, it was explained. Other points are based on the division's total training program, participation in the annual two-week active training program, advancements and attendance at weekly drills.

Cmdr. Calhoun said 46 members of Division 5-7, out of a total 48, have successfully passed advancement examinations this year. Another examination will be held June 30 at the local armory.

Serious Crime Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Serious crime in the United States rose 7 per cent in the first three months of 1963 over the corresponding period of 1962, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said Wednesday.

Hoover said increases in crimes against property was responsible for the increase. Crimes against the person declined—murder was down 1 per cent, aggravated assault 3 per cent and forcible rape 2 per cent.

Rep. Willis Elected

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House on Wednesday formally elected Rep. Edwin E. Willis, D-La., chairman of its Committee on Un-American Activities.

Willis, who had been ranking majority member, succeeds Rep. Francis E. Walter, D-Pa., who died last week.

Groups Honor Foster Parents

"We have decided that as long as we have our home, we want to give care to foster children."

This was the sentiment of Mrs. Norval Vandervort of Danville, one of the 122 foster parents honored at a program and social Wednesday in First Presbyterian Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Vandervort have cared for ten children since 1958. They had previously reared their own family.

Speaking on the program as a representative of foster parents, Mrs. Vandervort pointed out that the temporary care for these children without homes has meant many disruptions in their personal plans.

"However, the choice we made to open our homes to foster children when our own children finished high school has made our lives brighter," she added.

In the program sponsored jointly by the Target Youth Group of the church's Women's Association and the Allegany County Welfare Department Max Heming, this city, spoke in behalf of adoptive parents.

He pointed out that foster parents provide much service. This means giving homes to homeless children, providing social workers irreplacable service, and giving stopgap care and shelter for children who are later adopted.

The program in honor of the service provided the community by the many foster parents was highlighted by the presentation of citations to each one present.

Assisting Mrs. Jack Hartman of the Welfare Department in presenting the awards were Miss Lois Sweitzer, Miss Mary Bolt and Miss Mary Lou Appel, all caseworkers.

The oldest foster parent there was Mrs. Emma Ritchie of Shaft, 78, who gave a home to 14 children starting in 1939. For several years after the death of her husband in 1945, she continued to keep her home open for these children.

Couples from all parts of Allegany County were present.

Sea Cows To Rescue

CENTER HILL, Fla. (AP)—If a Sumter County experiment is successful, future citrus growers may some day ride herd on sea cows. Two aquatic mammals, whose real name is manatee, have been placed in a lake beside a large citrus grove.

The lake helped hold down cold damage to fruit during the Florida freeze. However, the problem with the lake is the growth of flags, bonnets and other litter, which hinder the effectiveness of its warmth and moisture.

Because the roots are not destroyed, chopping the growth is uneffective. Citrus growers are hoping to get at the root of the matter by placing the vegetarian sea cows in the lake.

Thoughtful Thief

LONDON (AP) — "Mind the glass, love," said a man to a woman looking in a jeweler's window Tuesday.

The man then produced a hatchet handle, smashed the window, removed a tray of rings worth $1,700 and fled.

New Unit Being Installed At Luke Paper Mill

A new precipitator unit, with the two-fold purpose of reducing air pollution and reclaiming chemicals for the pulping process, will go on line within eight weeks at West Virginia Pulp and Paper's Luke Mill's No. 1 smelter boiler, according to an announcement by William M. Thompson, production manager.

The new precipitator will be 97 per cent efficient in the collection of dust particles in the boiler stack gases and is a marked improvement over the older unit that was originally installed in the building in 1951.

Known as a two-field horizontal flow electrostatic precipitator, the unit collects dust particles on a series of wires and grounded plates. This is accomplished as the gases come out of the smelter boiler and are forced into the precipitator and through an 80,000-volt electric charge by an induced draft fan.

The building itself is a 30 by 35 foot tile shell located just north of the smelter. It is designed so that one of the electrostatic fields will always be operating. In the event of operational difficulties with either of the two fields, one can be by-passed and the other will collect dust particles that may be in the stack gases.

In his announcement, Thompson explained that the company is spending some $250,000 for the purchase and installation of the unit. This figure plus the amounts spent for the 95 per cent efficient precipitator on the the new power center and other air pollution abatement projects will add up to a total of nearly $1,000,000 spent on reduction of air pollution within the past several years by West Virginia Pulp and Paper's Luke mill.

Stirling Moss, the British auto racer who retired after a serious accident, has a new book coming out called "All But My Life."

In the program sponsored jointly by the Target Youth Group of the church's Women's Association and the Allegany County Welfare Department Max Heming, this city, spoke in behalf of adoptive parents.

He pointed out that foster parents provide much service. This means giving homes to homeless children, providing social workers irreplacable service, and giving stopgap care and shelter for children who are later adopted.

The program in honor of the service provided the community by the many foster parents was highlighted by the presentation of citations to each one present.

Assisting Mrs. Jack Hartman of the Welfare Department in presenting the awards were Miss Lois Sweitzer, Miss Mary Bolt and Miss Mary Lou Appel, all caseworkers.

The oldest foster parent there was Mrs. Emma Ritchie of Shaft, 78, who gave a home to 14 children starting in 1939. For several years after the death of her husband in 1945, she continued to keep her home open for these children.

Couples from all parts of Allegany County were present.

Sea Cows To Rescue

CENTER HILL, Fla. (AP)—If a Sumter County experiment is successful, future citrus growers may some day ride herd on sea cows. Two aquatic mammals, whose real name is manatee, have been placed in a lake beside a large citrus grove.

The lake helped hold down cold damage to fruit during the Florida freeze. However, the problem with the lake is the growth of flags, bonnets and other litter, which hinder the effectiveness of its warmth and moisture.

Because the roots are not destroyed, chopping the growth is uneffective. Citrus growers are hoping to get at the root of the matter by placing the vegetarian sea cows in the lake.

Thoughtful Thief

LONDON (AP) — "Mind the glass, love," said a man to a woman looking in a jeweler's window Tuesday.

The man then produced a hatchet handle, smashed the window, removed a tray of rings worth $1,700 and fled.

New Unit Being Installed At Luke Paper Mill

A new precipitator unit, with the two-fold purpose of reducing air pollution and reclaiming chemicals for the pulping process, will go on line within eight weeks at West Virginia Pulp and Paper's Luke Mill's No. 1 smelter boiler, according to an announcement by William M. Thompson, production manager.

The new precipitator will be 97 per cent efficient in the collection of dust particles in the boiler stack gases and is a marked improvement over the older unit that was originally installed in the building in 1951.

Known as a two-field horizontal flow electrostatic precipitator, the unit collects dust particles on a series of wires and grounded plates. This is accomplished as the gases come out of the smelter boiler and are forced into the precipitator and through an 80,000-volt electric charge by an induced draft fan.

The building itself is a 30 by 35 foot tile shell located just north of the smelter. It is designed so that one of the electrostatic fields will always be operating. In the event of operational difficulties with either of the two fields, one can be by-passed and the other will collect dust particles that may be in the stack gases.

In his announcement, Thompson explained that the company is spending some $250,000 for the purchase and installation of the unit. This figure plus the amounts spent for the 95 per cent efficient precipitator on the the new power center and other air pollution abatement projects will add up to a total of nearly $1,000,000 spent on reduction of air pollution within the past several years by West Virginia Pulp and Paper's Luke mill.

The Pittsburgh man asserted that while leaving an aisle or passageway to descend a grandstand stairway, he stumbled over a cardboard container and fell down three or four steps. # Meyers' Name Mentioned By Witness For FBI

The name of George Meyers, a native of Lonaconing and formerly of Cumberland, allegedly the Communist Party chairman for Maryland and the District of Columbia, has been mentioned by an undercover FBI agent during a hearing of the Subversive Activities Control Board.

Floyd E. Rogers, 42, a Baltimore steelworker revealed that he reported to the FBI about Communist meetings he attended of the Communist Party during a board hearing on a petition in New York Wednesday from Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy. The petition asks that Irving Potash register as a Communist. It also requests that several other persons be required to register.

At the hearing, Thomas C. Nugent, Justice Department lawyer, asked Rogers, a World War II Army veteran: "Are you presently a member of the Communist Party of the United States of America?"

"Yes, I am," Rogers replied. Then he identified Potash, 62, as national chairman of the Labor Commission of the Communist Party and said Potash spoke at a party meeting in Baltimore March 26, 1962.

Rogers said Meyers, once president of the CIO Textile Workers Union here, a former employe of Celanese and who once served a prison term on federal charges, presided at the Baltimore meeting.

Rogers testified he had served as secretary, secretary-treasurer and chairman of the Baltimore labor and steel clubs of the party.

Rogers' wife of 13 years said in Baltimore she had not known of her husband's work with the FBI. The Rogers have a son serving in the Navy.

39,405 Voters Now Eligible In This County

Allegany County had 39,405 registered voters as of June 1, according to figures released by John R. Kelly, chief clerk of the Board of Election Supervisors and Democratic registrar.

Although there were 31 new registrants in May, the names of 42 deceased persons were removed from the books. Four others were removed at their own request.

The registered voters June 1 included 38,992 white persons, 409 Negroes and four of Oriental extraction.

Included among the registered voters were 21,877 Republicans, 10,798 men and 11,079 women; 17,245 Democrats, 8,816 men and 8,429 women; 274 independents, 193 men and 81 women; seven Socialists, five men and two women, and two members of other parties, one man and one woman.

In addition to the new registrants and deletions, five voters changed their name or address only, 46 others transferred from one district and precinct to another and five changed political affiliation. Four of them switched from Democrat to Republican and one independent became a Democrat.

Continuing Flight From 'Paradise'

Since prehistoric times, men have been fleeing oppression and want. But only Communism has been able to make such flight a worldwide phenomenon of prodigious proportions. How numerous are the refugees from Communism is shown by new figures compiled in London.

Since the end of World War II more than 10 million in Europe, Asia and America have found life under Communism insupportable and have chosen to abandon their homelands. Many have preferred death to the harsh existence that is in such contrast to Communism's promises.

Berlin, of course, was the most spectacular of the escape hatches, but there have been many others—in Hungary, Korea, Red China, Tibet, Cuba. Gradually all, except Cuba, have been closed.

Some, as at Hong Kong, had to be sealed because no more refugees could be accommodated. But in most cases the stream was dammed by the Communist powers, embarrassed both by the loss of citizens with valuable skills and by the massive expression of dissatisfaction that exposed their failures.

But if the flight of its ablest is proof of Communism's inability to provide the happiness and freedom for which all men yearn, it is otherwise of small comfort to the West. Every one who leaves diminishes the source of potential resistance.

Those 250,000 or more Cubans who have fled to the United States, for example, might be more usefully employed at home in the anti-Castro underground. This is, in fact, one of the reasons the wily Castro, unlike other Red dictators, is willing to let them go.

These Days

By John Chamberlain

Great Leap And Great Flop

A decade and more ago a tacit combination in restraint of trade existed among the writers and reviewers of books about China. Somehow, a clique of professed believers in the notion that the Red Chinese dictator Mao Tse-tung was simply an Oriental Thomas Jefferson had managed to convince American book publishers that they, and they alone, had an inside track to the truth about the "thunder out of China."

In vain a few dissident students of Chinese affairs —Freda Utley and Irene Corbally Kuhn were among them—tried to present the counter-argument that Mao was just about as un-Jeffersonian as Stalin himself. These few off-beat skeptics were almost universally sidetracked as the book-reviewing Owen Lattimores praised the book-writing Owen Lattimores in all the important cultural media.

To do the American book publishers and the review editors justice, they were not the original perpetrators of the Mao Tse-tung "agrarian reform" delusion. That particular bill of goods had already been sold to our State Department in Washington, and had had the high endorsement of no less a personage than General George Marshall. The book publishers and the review editors, whose expertise in the esoteric subject of "dragonology" was on a par with my own understanding of vector analysis, were merely echoing the "line" from official places.

Since it is now judged to be "McCarthyism" to speculate on the motives of the original "agrarian reform" clique inside the State Department, we'll let those old embers rest. Anyway, this column's preferred method is to accentuate the positive whenever there is anything positive to accentuate. Fortunately, American book publishers are now willing to issue books that are critical of the Red Chinese revolution. Though the horse, in China, has been stolen, and the barn door presumably locked, we are now exhibiting a little respect for history, which is good for our own minds even if it does not help the Chinese in China.

All of this is by way of preamble to a salute which we wish to make to a young Chinese-American, Valentin Chu, who has just published a remarkable book called "Ta Ta, Tan Tan: the Inside Story of Communist China" (Norton). Mr. Chu is bilingual, and before he came to this country to write about China for such publications as Life Magazine, the New Leader, and U.S. News and World Report, he worked in Shanghai and in Hong Kong. His method is to currycomb copies of the Chinese Communist press which are bootlegged to him. Then, working with official "leads," he uses his emigre and refugee sources to round out the picture as best he can.

The big news in Mr. Chu's book is that the Great Leap of the Red Chinese has ended in the Great Flop. Mao is pictured as the "mad statistician of Peking." Unlike the Chinese sages of the past who believed that the "shortest distance between two points is to follow the line of least resistance," Mao is brutally direct in his approach to science. As part of the Great Leap Forward, Mao decided that the Red Chinese must rid themselves of the "four pests"—flies, mosquitoes, rats, and sparrows. Raising a "human sea" of fly swatters, mosquito slappers, rat catchers and sparrow shooters, the Maoists went religiously to work.

Everything was going fine until, with most of the sparrows dead, the insect population of China took a suddenly frightening jump. Now the sparrow, as an insect eater, has ceased to be a "pest"; the Maoists are trying to bring it back by giving it the status of a sacred bird. Thus the pendulum swings between the Great Leap Forward and the Great Leap Backward.

Whether Mr. Chu is talking about insect eradication or the "metaphysical" backyard steel furnace, or the "bamboo H-bomb," he brings the gift of perspective to his work. For instance, he tells us that the Red Chinese have uranium in Sinkiang. But it has to be refined in Soviet Central Asia before it can be used in a primitive Russian-built reactor in China. Query: if Khrushchev and Mao remain on the outs, can the Red Chinese get enough Russian help to make a deliverable atom bomb within foreseeable time?

Such is the type of question that Mr. Chu raises. He comes too late to be an antidote to Owen Lattimore. But he could be good medicine in combatting our newer gullibilities about the Far East.

Why Communists Mourn Pope John's Death

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON.

Pope John is mourned by Catholics, Protestants, and Jews—by all men of good will without distinction of belief. This was a saintly man, no less good because earthy and humorous, whose goodness all men could be sure about.

The curious fact is that among the most sincere mourners, there will also be some men of highly dubious and diluted good will. The Eastern European Communist leaders had been hoping that John XXIII would agree to a kind of semi-concordat; and they now fear that the next Pope will break off the contacts that gave hope of agreement.

Politically as well as religiously, these Communist-Vatican contacts have been one of the most interesting and startling features of the remarkable reign of Pope John. Too much attention has been concentrated, however, on the superficial events like the Roman visit of Nikita S. Khrushchev's son-in-law, Alexei Adzhubei.

The development of real importance, which the Vatican and the church hierarchy did not initiate, was the discussion of ways to regularize the extremely troublesome church-state relations in countries with huge, devout Catholic populations and Communist governments, notably Poland, Hungary, and Czechoslovakia.

The discussions, wholly informal, carefully kept behind the scenes, never characterized as negotiations, began with a feeler put out by the Communist Party hierarchy of Poland to the "other Polish government," the Catholic hierarchy headed by the great, wise, and courageous Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski.

Anyone who has spent a single Sunday in Poland—anyone who has seen the young men and boys kneeling in great crowds on the sidewalks at the doors of the overfilled churches—knows the Polish church's potential power. Cardinal Wyszynski has been content to use that power to defend the church's religious freedom and freedom to teach the young.

In practice, the foundation for a sort of church-state agreement was well-laid some time ago, when the practice grew up of submitting the names of new bishops to the civil government before their installation. As churchmen rather than politicians have always been nominated, there has been no real trouble about the Polish bishopric; but there has been much friction about religious teaching in the schools.

Apparently the great Polish Cardinal believed that both the church and the Polish people would gain by a regularized church-state relationship in Poland, which would tend to prevent friction over religious teachings and other difficulties that have arisen from time to time. The proof that Cardinal Wyszynski did not object is the simple fact that Polish Embassy-Vatican contacts began in Rome.

What had been produced by these contacts before Pope John's death is still a closely held secret. But it is clear that the affair was well-advanced, most probably in the direction of an agreement to name church and state representatives who would be charged with negotiating out any subsequent church-state differences.

Proofs that the affair was well-advanced are fairly numerous. Cardinal Wyszynski's visit to Rome, to talk about the problem with Pope John and the members of the Papal curia, was one such proof. Another was the visit of Franziskus Cardinal Koenig, Primate of Vienna, to Budapest, with the aim of ending the long seclusion of Jozsf Cardinal Mindszenty in the American Legation there.

Until recently, at least, Cardinal Koenig was also supposed to make an early visit to Prague, to meet with Archbishop Josef Beran, Primate of Czechoslovakia. The obvious purpose was to talk with Archbishop Beran about extending to Czechoslovakia an agreement already planned to cover Hungary as well as Poland.

All this, moreover, was very much on the mind of Pope John, even on his death bed. One of those admitted to see him, by the Pope's own request, was the Primate of the Ukraine, Archbishop Josyf Slyipyi. Archbishop Slyipyi's release from Russia was another recent development in the changing pattern of Vatican relations with the Communist governments.

This changing pattern has no doubt shocked a great many worldly people in this country, not to mention the more conservative members of the Papal curia. But neither the Cardinals of the curia nor the Americans who are comparably shocked have had anything like the same opportunity to form a correct judgment as Cardinal Wyszynski has had.

Pope John, on the other hand, was evidently content to take the opinion of this great Polish churchman, leader, and patriot.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

THIRD PARTY MOVEMENT — About the time the rioting in Birmingham, Ala., was reaching its height, a political reaction was setting in in some Washington circles. The anti-Kennedy idea being put forward was to revive the third party movement in the South in 1964 as a means of thwarting the Democrat President's chances for re-election.

Not since an abortive effort in 1948 has the third party idea been given any serious attention. Now as then, the idea is to cause enough electoral votes to defect from the regular Democratic candidate to throw the Presidential election into the House of Representatives.

J. Strom Thurmond, now a senator from South Carolina, was the third party standard bearer then. He succeeded in capturing the electoral votes of four Southern states — Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and South Carolina — plus an extra Presidential vote for a total of 39 electoral votes.

It didn't even put a crimp in Harry Truman's upset victory that year, when he garnered 303 electoral votes to Tom Dewey's 189. The whole maneuver didn't come close to its objective, a deadlock in the electoral college vote which would have made the House elect a president.

Currently, the third party's standard bearer most talked about is George E. Wallace, governor of Alabama and a sworn segregationist to the bitter end. Wallace is willing to lead such a movement, even though most Democratic leaders — in the South as well as elsewhere — are convinced he would run a poorer race than Thurmond did 15 years ago.

The main strength behind Thurmond's movement came from unorganized Southern Republicans who gladly fell in behind him as the only practical means to vote their opposition to the dominant liberal element in the Democratic Party.

Now, there are substantial reports of a true two-party system arising in the South under the impetus of economic as well as social differences with the Kennedy administration. Most of these dissenters will easily be persuaded to vote Republican as a means of strengthening the only opposition party with a chance nationally, rather than to throw away their ballots on an empty gesture by voting for Wallace.

Rice Causes Chinese Vitamin Deficiency

By Theodore R. Van Dellen

At least 80 per cent of the Chinese Nationalist army on Formosa showed signs of a deficiency of one or more vitamins. Anemia also was noted. The reason? Polished rice.

Army nutritionists found an inexpensive and simple remedy. One grain of rice in every 200 was coated with a mixture of thiamine, riboflavin, niacin, vitamin A, and iron. The enriched grain was shellacked to provide a coating that would resist cold water, and talc was applied to dull the bright yellow color, making it less conspicuous. The cost was 25c per man per year.

As a result of this rice enrichment program, the health of the soldiers improved. But the civilian population was none too happy with the plan. These people picked out the yellowish grains and threw them away.

Tooth enamel feels hard and looks like rock, but is penetrated by thousands of microscopic pathways. These microlamellae, as they are called, have been demonstated and photographed by Dr. Fred L. Losee of Great Lakes, Ill.

The discovery of these pathways is not new; it is made every 25 years or so and then more or less forgotten until rediscovered. They convey nourishment from the pulp to the enamel and it has been postulated that when the pulp dies, the enamel does the same and darkens in color.

Dr. Losee demonstrated that ions of phosphorous and iodine are able to penetrate the enamel and dentin in both directions. The chemicals move, according to his report in Dental Abstracts, from the saliva into the pulp and vice versa within a matter of minutes.

Tape recordings have been made of the underwater noises of captive porpoises and, more recently, of sea lions swimming in a pool at night. These animals are able to detect in the dark the pieces of fish thrown to them as food. The sounds made as they approach their meal appear to be echo-ranging signals of a complex and sophisticated nature. These noises have all the characteristics of an underwater radar (sonar) system.

NUMB THUMB

T. D. writes: I'm 70 years old and recently started playing the cello for recreation. But my right thumb gets numb holding the bow. A soft cover around the stick doesn't help. Have you any suggestions?

REPLY

Poor circulation may induce this symptom. Or the nerve to the thumb may be compressed by an abnormality in the neck or wrist. If changing the way you sit or hold the bow does not bring relief, try the tuba or listen to symphonic records.

SMOKING AND WEIGHT

T. F. writes: Will smoking cause a person to lose weight or gain weight?

REPLY

The individual may lose weight if smoking reduces appetite. Those who find relaxation in the habit may gain weight. Most smokers do not gain or lose, provided they eat properly.

STUFFED UP EARS

L. M. writes: Will penicillin cure blocked ears?

REPLY

Not when blockage is caused by excess wax. The antibiotic may be of value if infection exists but in this case pain would overshadow the sense of fullness in the ears.

TOMORROW: Intestinal parasites.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of diseases will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

When Joan Crawford and Bette Davis were co-starring in a motion picture, Miss Crawford playfully left this message in Miss Davis' dressing room: "Miss Davis vows Joan Crawford is the best dramatic actress in the history of all Hollywood." Miss Davis sent the message back to Miss Crawford with just two commas added: "Miss Davis, vows Joan Crawford, is the best dramatic actress in the history of all Hollywood."

There is a well-remembered day when a playwright who stuttered sought to interest a big Hollywood tycoon in his new opus. After days of tapping his heels in an outer office, he finally was ushered into the great man's presence. "If you want to read your play while I'm shaving," he was told, "come on. You've got exactly eleven minutes."

The playwright, acutely aware of the impediment in his speech, despairingly began reading while the producer lathered his face. He had stammered halfway through Act One when the producer rushed from the bathroom to his office and began pressing buzzers. Yes-men appeared from nowhere.

The great man waved his razor and announced, "This fellow has brought me a play with the most original gimmick in years. Every damn character in it stutters!"

Personal Matter Affected Opinions Of Two Supreme Court Justices

By Jack Anderson

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The Washington Merry-Go-Round today is written by Jack Anderson, Drew Pearson's associate.)

WASHINGTON — There was more than just the question of Colorado River water that caused the flareup between the two oldest Justices of the Supreme Court in point of service — Hugo Black and William O. Douglas. The real reason was a woman.

These two had battled on the same side for 25 years, in agreement 99 per cent of the time. Most of the time they bucked powerful majorities, sometimes incurred vicious criticism. There have been demands for their impeachment and removal from the court, but always they stuck together.

During their 25 years they have never forgotten the ideals and aims of the man who appointed them. Other Justices appointed by Roosevelt, especially Felix Frankfurter and the late Robert Jackson, strayed a long way from FDR's philosophy, but not Black and Douglas.

However, a coolness developed last fall when it became known in intimate court circles that Justice Douglas was planning another divorce.

Justice Black had taken the liberty of talking to his close friend when the latter's first divorce was in the offing. Their wives had been as intimate as they were, and Hugo told the younger Justice that he was making a mistake. Not even his old friend could stop Douglas, however he married Mrs. Mercedes Davidson.

Last summer, when Justice Douglas fell in love with a co-ed at Allegheny College in Pennsylvania and moved toward a second divorce, once again he fell under the disapproving eye of his old friend. Black felt the divorce would hurt the court at a crucial time. This affected not only their personal relations but their court opinions, and reached a climax with Douglas's dissent against Black's opinion in the Colorado River case this week.

History will record Justice Douglas as one of the great jurists of this generation. His courageous opinions, his brilliant dissents will probably surpass those of Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes. And he has carried more than his share of the court's work. Yet in private life he has been restless, sometimes lonely, sometimes off on trips across the Himalayas, or the deserts of Iran, or the area around Mt. Ararat where Noah landed his Ark.

Douglas is retiring from the bench in October. By that time, he and his old friend Black will probably be reconciled.

Justice John Stennis?

Legal circles have been flabbergasted at rumors that the White House is planning to appoint Sen. John Stennis of Mississippi to the Supreme Court when Justice Douglas retires.

Stennis is a Mississippi moderate and has the respect of his colleagues, but his appointment would meet with severe criticism in the North.

Stennis is a friend of Attorney General Robert Kennedy and has given him advice in the difficult Mississippi race problem. Because he is a moderate and because Gov. Ross Barnett is just the opposite, it's likely that Barnett will defeat Stennis when he runs against him for the Senate next year.

It's reported that the President and his brother are considering the appointment of a Southern Justice to the Supreme Court as a move to appease the South in 1964.

Military Vs. Democracy

The most important election to watch this month comes up in Peru on Sunday when the military junto now running that country is staging its vote for President.

The last election, held exactly one year ago, resulted in the election of Victor Haya de la Torre, an anti-Communist, pro-labor liberal who represents the landless Indians and had spent many years in exile. He was pro-United States and strongly anti-Communists. But because he believed in social reforms, the Peruvian military kicked him out.

Interesting fact is that Haya's Aprista Party is about the only one campaigning in Peru today. The other candidates, ex-President Manuel Odria and Fernando Belaunde have been making few speeches. You would hardly know that an election is being held in Peru.

This has led to speculation that the Peruvian military might call off the voting at the last minute. Or, if Haya is elected again, they will probably throw him out once again.

The Peruvian military has been largely equipped, supported, and trained by the U. S. military. Some have studied at West Point and Annapolis. The United States warned them in advance of last June's election that it was opposed to a military takeover. But that made no difference. The military took over anyway — fully confident that the Kennedy administration would not withhold funds.

They were right. The Kennedy administration granted recognition and proceeded with the usual aid, just as it did with the recognition of the military junta in Argentina, and later the military takeover in Guatemala.

The State Department even sent into exile the forthright U. S. Ambassador James Loeb, who had opposed the Peruvian military. Ambassador Loeb, after ten months of diplomatic exile, has now been assigned to be ambassador to Guinea, one of the toughest ambassadorial posts in Africa.

Note — Latin Americans read the papers. U. S. support for military regimes has probably hurt the United States more in democratic Latin countries than all our support for the Alliance for Progress.

Tomorrow's Wings Today – Part II

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — A supersonic plane is going to cost about $16,000,000. The British and French are building the Concorde, which will fly at 1,500 miles per hour. The American engineers are ready with one which will fly at 2,500 m.p.h. any time the government is ready to pay the bill for researching and manufacturing the first one—$1,000,000,000.

Every day, there are 39,000 takeoffs in the U. S. Every 14 days, there is an accident which kills 5.6 persons. Flight will kill about 150 persons this year; automobiles will kill 40,000. The Federal Aviation Agency has imposed so many safety restrictions on commercial aircraft that, by the time a crew computes every decimal of a flight including weather, fuel, weight, speed, traffic, altitude, check lists, etc. the captain boards the plane just to get a rest.

Here, they show the other side of the picture. The FAA has 50 women at consoles, flying imaginary planes at imaginary speeds and altitudes. In another room, the make-believe planes come up on radar scopes as moving white blips, and traffic controllers see as many as 250 craft moving toward their airport at one time.

They must monitor every flgiht, contact every plane, assign an altitude and rate of descent and a course, and sometimes contend with an unidentified small aircraft with no radio, which happens to be crossing the main traffic at right angles. Each girl has a pre-set flight pattern, and each problem is so arranged that, if the controller makes a mistake, the whole thing can be played back to show him where he goofed.

Most of the traffic men are already accustomed to imaginary supersonic planes, and give them such directions as: "Subsonic to 40,000 feet, Mach 1.2 at 50,000, Mach 3 at 80,000." FAA also has a new arresting gear, somewhat like that found on aircraft carriers, which will not only stop a fast landing jet liner before it goes off the end of the runway, but will stop one taking off if trouble develops at the last moment.

There is a new night glide path for pilots too. This is borrowed from the British. On final approach, he will see white dashes lighting ahead. If they change to red, he is too low; if they change to red-white, he is too high. In sum, he won't have to shoot his own landing. All he has to do is to keep the white flashes going.

Soon, there will be a new approach system to airports. On a radar scope, it is called a Harp. Fast traffic will be told to take "Track 17", as in railroad language, and slow moving planes will be ordered to come in on track three. The Harp not only watches every plane on every track, but stores the knowledge and can reproduce the exact flight pattern of any plane later.

Besides each plane, printed letters appear in four lines. The first identifies the plane. The second gives his altitude. The third gives his sequence number number for landing; the 4th computes whether he is on schedule, or early. The operator can extinguish any of these planes from sight at any time, to focus on one, or to focus only on those actually landing.

Here at the experimental station, there is one room full of IBM computers. Each one stores 32,000 words of memory about airplanes, in addition to storing 98,000 of seldom-used memory. It can be asked any question about aircraft problems and will answer in two one-millionth of a second. Each machine prints 600 lines of information per minute and, in that time, has time to proofread its own work and make corrections.

In another section, scientists are designing engines which will extinguish fires by the flow of air alone. They have also designed rubber fuel tanks so that, if a plane crashes, the chances of fire are minimized. This is the only place I know where they smash planes to see what will happen.

There is one problem which, so far, is beyond solution. This is slush. Plain ordinary snow mixed with water. An aircraft can take off or land on snow, but slush has an insuperable drag. Joe Blatt's boys bought $50,000 worth of ice last September and made slush on a 10,000 foot runway. An 880 jet was placed at the head of the runway and takeoff tests were made. A half-inch of slush produced 13,900 pounds of drag, which cancelled the pull of one of the four engines.

Another half-inch of slush and the plane fought valiantly to reach lift-off speed. The slush was flying over both wings like rooster tails. At a depth of two inches, it would be impossible for the plane to ever reach sufficient speed for takeoff. That is why there is an FAA regulation forbidding commercial planes from taking off in a half-inch of slush.

In Virginia, the development of the new laminar flow wing means that the thin strip of turbulent air which slowed every wing ever made is now defeated. Thin two-inch slots in the leading edge of the wing will absorb the turbulent air and pump it out aft. This will add at least 30 percent to the distance an aircraft can fly, or add that much to its carrying capacity.

Today's flight is a marvel of man's ability to make use of the elements. Tomorrow's is even more magical. But that no-hands landing—I saw it but I don't have to believe it . . .

Continuing Flight From 'Paradise'

Since prehistoric times, men have been fleeing oppression and want. But only Communism has been able to make such flight a worldwide phenomenon of prodigious proportions. How numerous are the refugees from Communism is shown by new figures compiled in London.

Since the end of World War II more than 10 million in Europe, Asia and America have found life under Communism insupportable and have chosen to abandon their homelands. Many have preferred death to the harsh existence that is in such contrast to Communism's promises.

Berlin, of course, was the most spectacular of the escape hatches, but there have been many others—in Hungary, Korea, Red China, Tibet, Cuba. Gradually all, except Cuba, have been closed.

Some, as at Hong Kong, had to be sealed because no more refugees could be accommodated. But in most cases the stream was dammed by the Communist powers, embarrassed both by the loss of citizens with valuable skills and by the massive expression of dissatisfaction that exposed their failures.

But if the flight of its ablest is proof of Communism's inability to provide the happiness and freedom for which all men yearn, it is otherwise of small comfort to the West. Every one who leaves diminishes the source of potential resistance.

Those 250,000 or more Cubans who have fled to the United States, for example, might be more usefully employed at home in the anti-Castro underground. This is, in fact, one of the reasons the wily Castro, unlike other Red dictators, is willing to let them go.

These Days

Great Leap And Great Flop

A decade and more ago a tacit combination in restraint of trade existed among the writers and reviewers of books about China. Somehow, a clique of professed believers in the notion that the Red Chinese dictator Mao Tse-tung was simply an Oriental Thomas Jefferson had managed to convince American book publishers that they, and they alone, had an inside track to the truth about the "thunder out of China."

In vain a few dissident students of Chinese affairs —Freda Utley and Irene Corbally Kuhn were among them—tried to present the counter-argument that Mao was just about as un-Jeffersonian as Stalin himself. These few off-beat skeptics were almost universally sidetracked as the book-reviewing Owen Lattimores praised the book-writing Owen Lattimores in all the important cultural media.

To do the American book publishers and the review editors justice, they were not the original perpetrators of the Mao Tse-tung "agrarian reform" delusion. That particular bill of goods had already been sold to our State Department in Washington, and had had the high endorsement of no less a personage than General George Marshall. The book publishers and the review editors, whose expertise in the esoteric subject of "dragonology" was on a par with my own understanding of vector analysis, were merely echoing the "line" from official places.

Since it is now judged to be "McCarthyism" to speculate on the motives of the original "agrarian reform" clique inside the State Department, we'll let those old embers rest. Anyway, this column's preferred method is to accentuate the positive whenever there is anything positive to accentuate. Fortunately, American book publishers are now willing to issue books that are critical of the Red Chinese revolution. Though the horse, in China, has been stolen, and the barn door presumably locked, we are now exhibiting a little respect for history, which is good for our own minds even if it does not help the Chinese in China.

All of this is by way of preamble to a salute which we wish to make to a young Chinese-American, Valentin Chu, who has just published a remarkable book called "Ta Ta, Tan Tan: the Inside Story of Communist China" (Norton). Mr. Chu is bilingual, and before he came to this country to write about China for such publications as Life Magazine, the New Leader, and U.S. News and World Report, he worked in Shanghai and in Hong Kong. His method is to currycomb copies of the Chinese Communist press which are bootlegged to him. Then, working with official "leads," he uses his emigre and refugee sources to round out the picture as best he can.

The big news in Mr. Chu's book is that the Great Leap of the Red Chinese has ended in the Great Flop. Mao is pictured as the "mad statistician of Peking." Unlike the Chinese sages of the past who believed that the "shortest distance between two points is to follow the line of least resistance," Mao is brutally direct in his approach to science. As part of the Great Leap Forward, Mao decided that the Red Chinese must rid themselves of the "four pests"—flies, mosquitoes, rats, and sparrows. Raising a "human sea" of fly swatters, mosquito slappers, rat catchers and sparrow shooters, the Maoists went religiously to work.

Everything was going fine until, with most of the sparrows dead, the insect population of China took a suddenly frightening jump. Now the sparrow, as an insect eater, has ceased to be a "pest"; the Maoists are trying to bring it back by giving it the status of a sacred bird. Thus the pendulum swings between the Great Leap Forward and the Great Leap Backward.

Whether Mr. Chu is talking about insect eradication or the "metaphysical" backyard steel furnace, or the "bamboo H-bomb," he brings the gift of perspective to his work. For instance, he tells us that the Red Chinese have uranium in Sinkiang. But it has to be refined in Soviet Central Asia before it can be used in a primitive Russian-built reactor in China. Query: if Khrushchev and Mao remain on the outs, can the Red Chinese get enough Russian help to make a deliverable atom bomb within foreseeable time?

Such is the type of question that Mr. Chu raises. He comes too late to be an antidote to Owen Lattimore. But he could be good medicine in combatting our newer gullibilities about the Far East.

Why Communists Mourn Pope John's Death

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON.

Pope John is mourned by Catholics, Protestants, and Jews—by all men of good will without distinction of belief. This was a saintly man, no less good because earthy and humorous, whose goodness all men could be sure about.

The curious fact is that among the most sincere mourners, there will also be some men of highly dubious and diluted good will. The Eastern European Communist leaders had been hoping that John XXIII would agree to a kind of semi-concordat; and they now fear that the next Pope will break off the contacts that gave hope of agreement.

Politically as well as religiously, these Communist-Vatican contacts have been one of the most interesting and startling features of the remarkable reign of Pope John. Too much attention has been concentrated, however, on the superficial events like the Roman visit of Nikita S. Khrushchev's son-in-law, Alexei Adzhubei.

The development of real importance, which the Vatican and the church hierarchy did not initiate, was the discussion of ways to regularize the extremely troublesome church-state relations in countries with huge, devout Catholic populations and Communist governments, notably Poland, Hungary, and Czechoslovakia.

The discussions, wholly informal, carefully kept behind the scenes, never characterized as negotiations, began with a feeler put out by the Communist Party hierarchy of Poland to the "other Polish government," the Catholic hierarchy headed by the great, wise, and courageous Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski.

Anyone who has spent a single Sunday in Poland—anyone who has seen the young men and boys kneeling in great crowds on the sidewalks at the doors of the overfilled churches—knows the Polish church's potential power. Cardinal Wyszynski has been content to use that power to defend the church's religious freedom and freedom to teach the young.

In practice, the foundation for a sort of church-state agreement was well-laid some time ago, when the practice grew up of submitting the names of new bishops to the civil government before their installation. As churchmen rather than politicians have always been nominated, there has been no real trouble about the Polish bishopric; but there has been much friction about religious teaching in the schools.

Apparently the great Polish Cardinal believed that both the church and the Polish people would gain by a regularized church-state relationship in Poland, which would tend to prevent friction over religious teachings and other difficulties that have arisen from time to time. The proof that Cardinal Wyszynski did not object is the simple fact that Polish Embassy-Vatican contacts began in Rome.

What had been produced by these contacts before Pope John's death is still a closely held secret. But it is clear that the affair was well-advance, most probably in the direction of an agreement to name church and state representatives who would be charged with negotiating out any subsequent church-state differences.

Proofs that the affair was well-advanced are fairly numerous. Cardinal Wyszynski's visit to Rome, to talk about the problem with Pope John and the members of the Papal curia, was one such proof. Another was the visit of Franziskus Cardinal Koenig, Primate of Vienna, to Budapest, with the aim of ending the long seclusion of Jozsf Cardinal Mindszenty in the American Legation there.

Until recently, at least, Cardinal Koenig was also supposed to make an early visit to Prague, to meet with Archbishop Josef Beran, Primate of Czechoslovakia. The obvious purpose was to talk with Archbishop Beran about extending to Czechoslovakia an agreement already planned to cover Hungary as well as Poland.

All this, moreover, was very much on the mind of Pope John, even on his death bed. One of those admitted to see him, by the Pope's own request, was the Primate of the Ukraine, Archbishop Josyf Slyipyi. Archbishop Slyipyi's release from Russia was another recent development in the changing pattern of Vatican relations with the Communist governments.

This changing pattern has no doubt shocked a great many worldly people in this country, not to mention the more conservative members of the Papal curia. But neither the Cardinals of the curia nor the Americans who are comparably shocked have had anything like the same opportunity to form a correct judgment as Cardinal Wyszynski has had.

Pope John, on the other hand, was evidently content to take the opinion of this great Polish churchman, leader, and patriot.

By Henry Cathcart

THIRD PARTY MOVEMENT — About the time the rioting in Birmingham, Ala., was reaching its height, a political reaction was setting in in some Washington circles. The anti-Kennedy idea being put forward was to revive the third party movement in the South in 1964 as a means of thwarting the Democrat President's chances for re-election.

Not since an abortive effort in 1948 has the third party idea been given any serious attention. Now as then, the idea is to cause enough electoral votes to defect from the regular Democratic candidate to throw the Presidential election into the House of Representatives.

J. Strom Thurmond, now a senator from South Carolina, was the third party standard bearer then. He succeeded in capturing the electoral votes of four Southern states — Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and South Carolina — plus an extra Presidential vote for a total of 39 electoral votes.

It didn't even put a crimp in Harry Truman's upset victory that year, when he garnered 303 electoral votes to Tom Dewey's 189. The whole maneuver didn't come close to its objective, a deadlock in the electoral college vote which would have made the House elect a president.

Currently, the third party's standard bearer most talked about is George E. Wallace, governor of Alabama and a sworn segregationist to the bitter end. Wallace is willing to lead such a movement, even though most Democratic leaders — in the South as well as elsewhere — are convinced he would run a poorer race than Thurmond did 15 years ago.

The main strength behind Thurmond's movement came from unorganized Southern Republicans who gladly fell in behind him as the only practical means to vote their opposition to the dominant liberal element in the Democratic Party.

Now, there are substantial reports of a true two-party system arising in the South under the impetus of economic as well as social differences with the Kennedy administration. Most of these dissenters will easily be persuaded to vote Republican as a means of strengthening the only opposition party with a chance nationally, rather than to throw away their ballots on an empty gesture by voting for Wallace.

Rice Causes Chinese Vitamin Deficiency

By Theodore R. Van Dellen

At least 80 per cent of the Chinese Nationalist army on Formosa showed signs of a deficiency of one or more vitamins. Anemia also was noted. The reason? Polished rice.

Army nutritionists found an inexpensive and simple remedy. One grain of rice in every 200 was coated with a mixture of thiamine, riboflavin, niacin, vitamin A, and iron. The enriched grain was shellacked to provide a coating that would resist cold water, and talc was applied to dull the bright yellow color, making it less conspicuous. The cost was 25c per man per year.

As a result of this rice enrichment program, the health of the soldiers improved. But the civilian population was none too happy with the plan. These people picked out the yellowish grains and threw them away.

Tooth enamel feels hard and looks like rock, but is penetrated by thousands of microscopic pathways. These microlamellae, as they are called, have been demonstated and photographed by Dr. Fred L. Losee of Great Lakes, Ill.

The discovery of these pathways is not new; it is made every 25 years or so and then more or less forgotten until rediscovered. They convey nourishment from the pulp to the enamel and it has been postulated that when the pulp dies, the enamel does the same and darkens in color.

Dr. Losee demonstrated that ions of phosphorous and iodine are able to penetrate the enamel and dentin in both directions. The chemicals move, according to his report in Dental Abstracts, from the saliva into the pulp and vice versa within a matter of minutes.

Tape recordings have been made of the underwater noises of captive porpoises and, more recently, of sea lions swimming in a pool at night. These animals are able to detect in the dark the pieces of fish thrown to them as food. The sounds made as they approach their meal appear to be echo-ranging signals of a complex and sophisticated nature. These noises have all the characteristics of an underwater radar (sonar) system.

NUMB THUMB

T. D. writes: I'm 70 years old and recently started playing the cello for recreation. But my right thumb gets numb holding the bow. A soft cover around the stick doesn't help. Have you any suggestions?

REPLY

Poor circulation may induce this symptom. Or the nerve to the thumb may be compressed by an abnormality in the neck or wrist. If changing the way you sit or hold the bow does not bring relief, try the tuba or listen to symphonic records.

SMOKING AND WEIGHT

T. F. writes: Will smoking cause a person to lose weight or gain weight?

REPLY

The individual may lose weight if smoking reduces appetite. Those who find relaxation in the habit may gain weight. Most smokers do not gain or lose, provided they eat properly.

STUFFED UP EARS

L. M. writes: Will penicillin cure blocked ears?

REPLY

Not when blockage is caused by excess wax. The antibiotic may be of value if infection exists but in this case pain would overshadow the sense of fullness in the ears.

TOMORROW: Intestinal parasites.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of diseases will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

When Joan Crawford and Bette Davis were co-starring in a motion picture, Miss Crawford playfully left this message in Miss Davis' dressing room: "Miss Davis vows Joan Crawford is the best dramatic actress in the history of all Hollywood." Miss Davis sent the message back to Miss Crawford with just two commas added: "Miss Davis, vows Joan Crawford, is the best dramatic actress in the history of all Hollywood."

There is a well-remembered day when a playwright who stuttered sought to interest a big Hollywood tycoon in his new opus. After days of tapping his heels in an outer office, he finally was ushered into the great man's presence. "If you want to read your play while I'm shaving," he was told, "come on. You've got exactly eleven minutes."

The playwright, acutely aware of the impediment in his speech, despairingly began reading while the producer lathered his face. He had stammered halfway through Act One when the producer rushed from the bathroom to his office and began pressing buzzers. Yes-men appeared from nowhere.

The great man waved his razor and announced, "This fellow has brought me a play with the most original gimmick in years. Every damn character in it stutters!"

Personal Matter Affected Opinions Of Two Supreme Court Justices

By Jack Anderson

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The Washington Merry-Go-Round today is written by Jack Anderson, Drew Pearson's associate.)

WASHINGTON — There was more than just the question of Colorado River water that caused the flareup between the two oldest Justices of the Supreme Court in point of service — Hugo Black and William O. Douglas. The real reason was a woman.

These two had battled on the same side for 25 years, in agreement 99 per cent of the time. Most of the time they bucked powerful majorities, sometimes incurred vicious criticism. There have been demands for their impeachment and removal from the court, but always they stuck together.

During their 25 years they have never forgotten the ideals and aims of the man who appointed them. Other Justices appointed by Roosevelt, especially Felix Frankfurter and the late Robert Jackson, strayed a long way from FDR's philosophy, but not Black and Douglas.

However, a coolness developed last fall when it became known in intimate court circles that Justice Douglas was planning another divorce.

Justice Black had taken the liberty of talking to his close friend when the latter's first divorce was in the offing. Their wives had been as intimate as they were, and Hugo told the younger Justice that he was making a mistake. Not even his old friend could stop Douglas, however he married Mrs. Mercedes Davidson.

Last summer, when Justice Douglas fell in love with a co-ed at Allegheny College in Pennsylvania and moved toward a second divorce, once again he fell under the disapproving eye of his old friend. Black felt the divorce would hurt the court at a crucial time. This affected not only their personal relations but their court opinions, and reached a climax with Douglas's dissent against Black's opinion in the Colorado River case this week.

History will record Justice Douglas as one of the great jurists of this generation. His courageous opinions, his brilliant dissents will probably surpass those of Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes. And he has carried more than his share of the court's work. Yet in private life he has been restless, sometimes lonely, sometimes off on trips across the Himalayas, or the deserts of Iran, or the area around Mt. Ararat where Noah landed his Ark.

Douglas is retiring from the bench in October. By that time, he and his old friend Black will probably be reconciled.

Justice John Stennis?

Legal circles have been flabbergasted at rumors that the White House is planning to appoint Sen. John Stennis of Mississippi to the Supreme Court when Justice Douglas retires.

Stennis is a Mississippi moderate and has the respect of his colleagues, but his appointment would meet with severe criticism in the North.

Stennis is a friend of Attorney General Robert Kennedy and has given him advice in the difficult Mississippi race problem. Because he is a moderate and because Gov. Ross Barnett is just the opposite, it's likely that Barnett will defeat Stennis when he runs against him for the Senate next year.

It's reported that the President and his brother are considering the appointment of a Southern Justice to the Supreme Court as a move to appease the South in 1964.

Military Vs. Democracy

The most important election to watch this month comes up in Peru on Sunday when the military junto now running that country is staging its vote for President.

The last election, held exactly one year ago, resulted in the election of Victor Haya de la Torre, an anti-Communist, pro-labor liberal who represents the landless Indians and had spent many years in exile. He was pro-United States and strongly anti-Communists. But because he believed in social reforms, the Peruvian military kicked him out.

Interesting fact is that Haya's Aprista Party is about the only one campaigning in Peru today. The other candidates, ex-President Manuel Odria and Fernando Belaunde have been making few speeches. You would hardly know that an election is being held in Peru.

This has led to speculation that the Peruvian military might call off the voting at the last minute. Or, if Haya is elected again, they will probably throw him out once again.

The Peruvian military has been largely equipped, supported, and trained by the U. S. military. Some have studied at West Point and Annapolis. The United States warned them in advance of last June's election that it was opposed to a military takeover. But that made no difference. The military took over anyway — fully confident that the Kennedy administration would not withhold funds.

They were right. The Kennedy administration granted recognition and proceeded with the usual aid, just as it did with the recognition of the military junta in Argentina, and later the military takeover in Guatemala.

The State Department even sent into exile the forthright U. S. Ambassador James Loeb, who had opposed the Peruvian military. Ambassador Loeb, after ten months of diplomatic exile, has now been assigned to be ambassador to Guinea, one of the toughest ambassadorial posts in Africa.

Note — Latin Americans read the papers. U. S. support for military regimes has probably hurt the United States more in democratic Latin countries than all our support for the Alliance for Progress.

Tomorrow's Wings Today – Part II

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — A supersonic plane is going to cost about $16,000,000. The British and French are building the Concorde, which will fly at 1,500 miles per hour. The American engineers are ready with one which will fly at 2,500 m.p.h. any time the government is ready to pay the bill for researching and manufacturing the first one—$1,000,000,000.

Every day, there are 39,000 takeoffs in the U. S. Every 14 days, there is an accident which kills 5.6 persons. Flight will kill about 150 persons this year; automobiles will kill 40,000. The Federal Aviation Agency has imposed so many safety restrictions on commercial aircraft that, by the time a crew computes every decimal of a flight including weather, fuel, weight, speed, traffic, altitude, check lists, etc. the captain boards the plane just to get a rest.

Here, they show the other side of the picture. The FAA has 50 women at consoles, flying imaginary planes at imaginary speeds and altitudes. In another room, the make-believe planes come up on radar scopes as moving white blips, and traffic controllers see as many as 250 craft moving toward their airport at one time.

They must monitor every flgiht, contact every plane, assign an altitude and rate of descent and a course, and sometimes contend with an unidentified small aircraft with no radio, which happens to be crossing the main traffic at right angles. Each girl has a pre-set flight pattern, and each problem is so arranged that, if the controller makes a mistake, the whole thing can be played back to show him where he goofed.

Most of the traffic men are already accustomed to imaginary supersonic planes, and give them such directions as: "Subsonic to 40,000 feet. Mach 1.2 at 50,000, Mach 3 at 80,000." FAA also has a new arresting gear, somewhat like that found on aircraft carriers, which will not only stop a fast landing jet liner before it goes off the end of the runway, but will stop one taking off if trouble develops at the last moment.

There is a new night glide path for pilots too. This is borrowed from the British. On final approach, he will see white dashes lighting ahead. If they change to red, he is too low; if they change to red-white, he is too high. In sum, he won't have to shoot his own landing. All he has to do is to keep the white flashes going.

Soon, there will be a new approach system to airports. On a radar scope, it is called a Harp. Fast traffic will be told to take "Track 17", as in railroad language, and slow moving planes will be ordered to come in on track three. The Harp not only watches every plane on every track, but stores the knowledge and can reproduce the exact flight pattern of any plane later.

Besides each plane, printed letters appear in four lines. The first identifies the plane. The second gives his altitude. The third gives his sequence number number for landing; the 4th computes whether he is on schedule, or early. The operator can extinguish any of these planes from sight at any time, to focus on one, or to focus only on those actually landing.

Here at the experimental station, there is one room full of IBM computers. Each one stores 32,000 words of memory about airplanes, in addition to storing 98,000 of seldom-used memory. It can be asked any question about aircraft problems and will answer in two one-millionth of a second. Each machine prints 600 lines of information per minute and, in that time, has time to proofread its own work and make corrections.

In another section, scientists are designing engines which will extinguish fires by the flow of air alone. They have also designed rubber fuel tanks so that, if a plane crashes, the chances of fire are minimized. This is the only place I know where they smash planes to see what will happen.

There is one problem which, so far, is beyond solution. This is slush. Plain ordinary snow mixed with water. An aircraft can take off or land on snow, but slush has an insuperable drag. Joe Blatt's boys bought $50,000 worth of ice last September and made slush on a 10,000 foot runway. An 880 jet was placed at the head of the runway and takeoff tests were made. A half-inch of slush produced 13,900 pounds of drag, which cancelled the pull of one of the four engines.

Another half-inch of slush and the plane fought valiantly to reach lift-off speed. The slush was flying over both wings like rooster tails. At a depth of two inches, it would be impossible for the plane to ever reach sufficient speed for takeoff. That is why there is an FAA regulation forbidding commercial planes from taking off in a half-inch of slush.

In Virginia, the development of the new laminar flow wing means that the thin strip of turbulent air which slowed every wing ever made is now defeated. Thin two-inch slots in the leading edge of the wing will absorb the turbulent air and pump it out aft. This will add at least 30 percent to the distance an aircraft can fly, or add that much to its carrying capacity.

Today's flight is a marvel of man's ability to make use of the elements. Tomorrow's is even more magical. But that no-hands landing—I saw it but I don't have to believe it . . .

This is a pretty lady. Color her hair—a new, beautiful shade!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Hair Color — Another Cosmetic

More and more women are realizing: hair color is just one more cosmetic that can be used to increase attractiveness. It's a powerful item on your list of beauty aids.

You may be satisfied with the hair color nature gave you — only to find that nature tends to be an Indian-giver. As you get older, there's a strong tendency for your natural shade to darken, become drab, and—inevitably—to begin graying.

There's nothing wrong with gray hair! It can be one of the most beautiful shades, especially when helped to full beauty-power with special rinses.

Gray can be a problem during the in-between years, and this is one time to investigate tinting or dyeing to avoid the pepper-and-salt look. In the hands of a professional, you may wish to leave part of the gray, for attractive streak effects; this is seldom possible with do-it-yourself techniques.

Should you change color completely? If you're wondering; or if you're uncertain about how to go about hair-coloring; it's a good idea to consult a professional. It's worthwhile to get sound advice on which tints will do most for your skin tone, find out what's involved in various methods of coloring, and so on. You may wish to continue professional care; if you don't, you have a good start on a program of home care.

There are many kinds and brands of hair color available. In chosing which you will try, keep in mind:

Purpose — if you want to cover gray hair, check carefully the label and color chart; many rinses will not cover gray, will turn it unattractive shades of red instead.

Amount of care — Most rinses add only a few extra minutes to shampoo time, need renewing about every fourth shampoo. Dyeing takes more time, skill, needs root touch-up quite frequently. Almost all products must be skin-tested 24 hours before the first use to avoid allergy problems; require the use of rubber gloves to protect hands from stain.

Cost — Check prices of products for home care — most packages contain only one or two rinses. Consult beauty salons by phone or in person for estimates on initial cost and upkeep.

Benefits — Not only increased hair beauty, but enhancement of face, eye beauty — and an amazing lift in youthful spirits!

In considering any color problem, you'll be helped by a careful analysis of "Your Color Type." This booklet is available through your newspaper. Address "Secrets of Charm," and enclose 10c and a stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Finnigan's Hollywood

BY JOSEPH FINNIGAN

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Actor Paul Burke is back in Hollywood after spending the past three years as a self-described "waif" on the streets of New York.

"We were the waifs of the television business," said Burke of himself and co-stars Horace McMahon, and Harry Bellaver on "Naked City."

Since 1960, the three stalwart video detectives either have been freezing or roasting on New York's pavements as their show depicted that city's police force solving crimes.

All that's over now. Paul, Horace and Harry were brought in off the streets when ABC-TV cancelled the show. The boys are a little more comfortable now, albeit unemployed.

"We were always on the streets," said Burke. "The show was shot in New York but it was actually a Hollywood series. I've been gone from here three years. I think that's the all-time record for being on location. We rarely saw the front office bosses because most of them were in Hollywood. I saw the executive producer about three times."

Burke and his co-stars appeared in 99 "Naked City" episodes until the series was cancelled.

"I was shocked when they told me it was going off the air," he said. "Generally we all felt we had done a good job."

The series was Burke's fourth regular video job and his most successful. Previously he had regular parts in "Five Fingers," "Harbor Master" and "Noah's Ark."

But it was "Naked City" that won Burke an Emmy award as the best regular series actor his second year on that show. Now he's on the open market again, shopping around for another series and harboring none of the resentments usually uttered by actors who resent the tiring pace of a weekly show.

"I intend to do another series if the right one comes along," Paul said. "I was raised on them, having done about 300 filmed television shows. I have found ways to work comfortably in a series."

Burke's first Hollywood job since his own show ended was an episode of "Eleventh Hour," the NBC-TV series which provided competition for "Naked City" this past season and might even have contributed to that show's demise.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Why can't we live our lives backwards? I've been married 27 years to the most wonderful wife in the world, but I didn't appreciate her until now — when it may be too late.

Tomorrow I go to the hospital for surgery — lung cancer. I thought I was indestructible but I realize now how frail is man and how few are his days.

I have spent most of my adult life in the real estate business and I've done my share of cheating. I used to rationalize my affairs — saying "Why not? What have I got to lose?" I even told myself my wife was cool to me, when I knew she had every right to be. I drank a lot and stayed away from home for days at a time.

I know now the only genuine happiness I ever had was with her. I'd give anything to make up to that dear woman the anguish and heartache I've caused her. If God spares me I will spend the rest of my life being a good husband.

Before I go into surgery I shall tell my wife about this letter so she can watch the paper for it. It is something I feel compelled to do. Please, Ann, print this.

—W.E.J.

DEAR W.E.J.: Here is your letter. My prayers are with you.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have been living with Al for eight months. He had one bad marriage and doesn't want to risk a second one. He refuses to marry me unless he is sure we man get along together.

We never quarrel and I am sure he loves me, as I love him. But I hate living this way. I want to be his wife and not his mistress.

On top of all this I have a 9-year-old daughter by a previous marriage. The child is living with her grandmother and I want her here with us. Al likes her very much and is perfectly willing, but I'm afraid to uproot her unless I can offer the security of a home protected by marriage.

Al has a temper and I don't want to rile him. Shall I insist on marriage, or shall I bring my daughter into the house and hope for the best?

—AL'S MISTRESS

DEAR MISGUIDED FOOL: Don't bring your child into a setup which you know is immoral. She is far better off with her grandmother.

As for you, I urge you to move out and stay out until you can sign your next letter "Al's Wife." He'll never marry you if you settle for the present arrangement. Why should he?

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Are my parents living in the 18th Century? I am 16 and Otis is 18. We have been going together for six months.

When Otis comes to our home for an evening we must sit and visit with my parents or play cards with them. Occasionally when I invite Otis into the den so we can have a private conversation my mother criticizes me for being unsociable.

Last week I was on the telephone with Otis for 15 minutes. My mother made a new rule — a five minute phone limit, and she sets the egg-timer. Last night the egg-timer went off and Otis heard it. Now I think he is mad at me. If I lose him I'll be awfully unhappy with my mother. I need your help.

—YVONNE

DEAR YVONNE: Teenagers should not be expected to spend evenings playing cards with parents. I can't imagine anything more boring. And the egg-timer routine is an insult. I don't think a 15-minute phone conversation is out of line — but no longer, please.

CONFIDENTIAL to Out Of Gas: This is the least of your problems, Jack. I think the real trouble is under your hood. Get professional help.

Are your parents too strict? You can benefit from the experiences of thousands of teenagers if you write for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How To Live With Your Parents," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Opening lead: Ten of ◇

A bit of resourcefulness on the part of West led to a substantial swing in favor of his side in today's hand taken from a recent team-of-four contest. It was a case of West giving his opponent a chance to dig his own grave.

The bidding was the same at both tables. North had the ingredients—four high card points—for a direct raise of partner's opening two no trump bid, but with a slightly unbalanced holding he tested the possibility of playing a suit contract first by responding with three hearts. South's rebid of three no trump closed the auction.

The opening lead was the ten of diamonds at both tables. In each case, declarer permitted the ten to hold the first trick, and won the continuation with the queen. The ace, king, queen of clubs were cashed next and, on the third round, East discarded the deuce of hearts. A spade was led to dummy's queen which held the trick, and a spade was returned to declarer's jack.

At the first table, West took declarer's jack of spades with the ace and led another diamond to clear the suit. When South's king of spades dropped East's ten, the nine became a winner and produced declarer's ninth trick.

At the other table, when a second spade was led toward the closed hand, West permitted declarer's jack to win the trick. If South held both the king and ten of spades, West's play wouldn't matter but, if declarer had the king-nine left, and East the lone ten, then the play of the ace would assure South's dropping the ten on the next round.

Declarer wasn't certain whether to lead the king of spades next in an effort to smother the ten and ace together, or whether he should play the nine of spades in the hope that the ace was alone. To save himself the guess, he crossed over to North's jack of clubs—as both opponents now safely discarded spades—in order to make a heart play for his ninth trick. The jack of hearts was led and East promptly followed with the six. After much agonizing, South permitted the jack to ride. West won with the queen of hearts, cleared the diamonds and, when East got in with the ace of hearts, he ran enough tricks to set South down by one.

More Leather Is Being Used In Men's Clothing

By WALTER LOGAN

NEW YORK (UPI) — One of the features of the recently completed showings of men's wear for fall has been the resurgence of leather, especially suede, in products ranging from ski wear to neckties.

Leather has been revitalized through use of color. It has been reduced in weight and newly styled. Many of the suede products are machine washable.

One of its most popular uses for Fall is in combination with wool-knit sweaters where it often forms the front and back of a sweater or is used as trim on pockets, collars, cuffs and as buttons.

Here is a rundown by the Leather Industries of America on some of the biggest uses of leather:

Leather garments — Casual jackets in suede or smooth leather, sometimes in combination with knit. There is a well-tailored deep brown suede jacket with natural shoulders and a slight suggestion of body tracing. A pale tan jacket is as machine washable as a shirt.

For more casual wear there is a five-buttom smooth leather jacket with rib knit collar, cuffs and back waist. One variation is a pullover with suede front and back with knit side panels and sleeves in a diamond pattern—olive suede or varying shades of green.

Outdoor coats range from a 39-inch long cabretta leather topcoat with flapped hacking pockets to a midway length (32-inch) suede alpace-lined parka with a hood that unbuttons. A suburban suede coat has button down flap pockets, a zipout pile lining and a button-off pile collar.

Leather also turns up in ski and after-ski wear. One ski parka is 34-inch length, lined in alpaca with removable hood. One is a suede waist length Bavarian-style cardigan with knit jacquard trim in snowflake design on edges and crew collar.

Shoes— The rugged "beefy" look of the heavy brogue is back but the leathers are much lighter and some of the appearance is achieved through new methods of port hole perforations and larger wingtips. Many high gloss smooth leather dress shoes feature a sweeping line from tip to the high-riding trousers now being worn. Popular too are brushed leather boots, slipons with elastic gores, waxy leather hand-sewn moccasins and lightly grained leather oxfords with raised topline.

Leather Gloves — For everyday business wear there is a capeskin in chestnut brown or black with shirred palm and knit lining. For cold weather there are heavier lined leathers and an extra-long capeskin with vented sides. For skiers there is a strapped deerskin or cape leather glove with separate inner wool liner. For formal wear there is a gray suede with silk lining or a black fawn with silk lining and raised pointing on the back.

Belts — For tweeds, glen plaids, cheviots and worsteds there is silky smooth calf, supple cowhide, boldly textured grains, soft suede and distinctively marked sharkskin and ostrich. Colors range range from tobacco brown through midnight blue, tan and olive.

Hats — Sport and casual dress hats and caps in sueded and brushed leathers are top news. They are water repellant, light in weight and come in various colors.

Woman To Woman

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI) — There's nothing Scotch about Yankee Doodle dandies and damsels.

Rather than squeeze coppers when asked to contribute to a good cause, they tend to loosen the purse strings and pretend they are rich as Croesus—a king of Lydia in the Sixth Century B.C. having vast wealth.

Largely through the generosity of individuals, American philanthropy—private giving for public causes—last year scaled a new peak, $9.3 billion!

The American Association of Fund-Raising Counsel, which says so in its yearbook — "Giving U.S.A.," reported the figure tops the preceding year's by $600 million.

The major increases in giving were in the hospital and health fields—to institutions and agencies the givers might expect help from in time of their need.

"Individuals, the major philanthropic resource of America, gave an estimated $7.4 billion," the association said.

Other sources of contributions: foundations, $700 million; business $470 million; charitable bequests, $700 million.

Most of the money—51 per cent—was donated to religious institutions and purposes. Education was marked for 61 per cent of the contributions; welfare, for 15 per cent; health, for 12 per cent; others, for six per cent.

Volunteers, according to the report, are the backbone of the fund - raising efforts by the philanthropic agencies.

A recent survey, for example, shows 35 national philanthropic agencies having a total of more than 32 million listed volunteers.

In addition, it is estimated there are upward of 18 million church workers and thousands more men, women and children who volunteer to help raise funds for local institutions.

Having hit a peak in philanthropic giving, can the average contributor look forward to a lessening of requests for donations?

Negative — is the association's answer. In fact, there are new horizons for philanthropic service.

Reasons:

—With the population growing at the rate of 1.7 per cent a year and rapidly progressing toward an estimated 214 million by 1970, the needs and opportunities for philanthropic services become great indeed.

—New building needs for higher education are estimated to continue running at $1 billion annually throughout this decade.

—Health and welfare services will require an additional $2.5 billion annually in voluntary support.

This is a pretty lady. Color her hair—a new, beautiful shade!

by John Robert Powers

Hair Color — Another Cosmetic

More and more women are realizing: hair color is just one more cosmetic that can be used to increase attractiveness. It's a powerful item on your list of beauty aids.

You may be satisfied with the hair color nature gave you — only to find that nature tends to be an Indian-giver. As you get older, there's a strong tendency for your natural shade to darken, become drab, and—inevitably—to begin graying.

There's nothing wrong with gray hair! It can be one of the most beautiful shades, especially when helped to full beauty-power with special rinses.

Gray can be a problem during the in-between years, and this is one time to investigate tinting or dyeing to avoid the pepper-and-salt look. In the hands of a professional, you may wish to leave part of the gray, for attractive streak effects; this is seldom possible with do-it-yourself techniques.

Should you change color completely? If you're wondering; or if you're uncertain about how to go about hair-coloring; it's a good idea to consult a professional. It's worthwhile to get sound advice on which tints will do most for your skin tone, find out what's involved in various methods of coloring, and so on. You may wish to continue professional care; if you don't, you have a good start on a program of home care.

There are many kinds and brands of hair color available. In chosing which you will try, keep in mind:

Purpose — if you want to cover gray hair, check carefully the label and color chart; many rinses will not cover gray, will turn it unattractive shades of red instead.

Amount of care — Most rinses add only a few extra minutes to shampoo time, need renewing about every fourth shampoo. Dyeing takes more time, skill, needs root touch-up quite frequently. Almost all products must be skin-tested 24 hours before the first use to avoid allergy problems; require the use of rubber gloves to protect hands from stain.

Cost — Check prices of products for home care — most packages contain only one or two rinses. Consult beauty salons by phone or in person for estimates on initial cost and upkeep.

Benefits — Not only increased hair beauty, but enhancement of face, eye beauty — and an amazing lift in youthful spirits!

In considering any color problem, you'll be helped by a careful analysis of "Your Color Type." This booklet is available through your newspaper. Address "Secrets of Charm," and enclose 10c and a stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Finnigan's Hollywood

BY JOSEPH FINNIGAN

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Actor Paul Burke is back in Hollywood after spending the past three years as a self-described "waif" on the streets of New York.

"We were the waifs of the television business," said Burke of himself and co-stars Horace McMahon, and Harry Bellaver on "Naked City."

Since 1960, the three stalwart video detectives either have been freezing or roasting on New York's pavements as their show depicted that city's police force solving crimes.

All that's over now. Paul, Horace and Harry were brought in off the streets when ABC-TV cancelled the show. The boys are a little more comfortable now, albeit unemployed.

"We were always on the streets," said Burke. "The show was shot in New York but it was actually a Hollywood series. I've been gone from here three years. I think that's the all-time record for being on location. We rarely saw the front office bosses because most of them were in Hollywood. I saw the executive producer about three times."

Burke and his co-stars appeared in 99 "Naked City" episodes until the series was cancelled.

"I was shocked when they told me it was going off the air," he said. "Generally we all felt we had done a good job."

The series was Burke's fourth regular video job and his most successful. Previously he had regular parts in "Five Fingers," "Harbor Master" and "Noah's Ark."

But it was "Naked City" that won Burke an Emmy award as the best regular series actor his second year on that show. Now he's on the open market again, shopping around for another series and harboring none of the resentments usually uttered by actors who resent the tiring pace of a weekly show.

"I intend to do another series if the right one comes along," Paul said. "I was raised on them, having done about 300 filmed television shows. I have found ways to work comfortably in a series."

Burke's first Hollywood job since his own show ended was an episode of "Eleventh Hour," the NBC-TV series which provided competition for "Naked City" this past season and might even have contributed to that show's demise.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Why can't we live our lives backwards? I've been married 27 years to the most wonderful wife in the world, but I didn't appreciate her until now — when it may be too late.

Tomorrow I go to the hospital for surgery — lung cancer. I thought I was indestructible but I realize now how frail is man and how few are his days.

I have spent most of my adult life in the real estate business and I've done my share of cheating. I used to rationalize my affairs — saying "Why not? What have I got to lose?" I even told myself my wife was cool to me, when I knew she had every right to be. I drank a lot and stayed away from home for days at a time.

I know now the only genuine happiness I ever had was with her. I'd give anything to make up to that dear woman the anguish and heartache I've caused her. If God spares me I will spend the rest of my life being a good husband.

Before I go into surgery I shall tell my wife about this letter so she can watch the paper for it. It is something I feel compelled to do. Please, Ann, print this.

—W.E.J.

DEAR W.E.J.: Here is your letter. My prayers are with you.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have been living with Al for eight months. He had one bad marriage and doesn't want to risk a second one. He refuses to marry me unless he is sure we man get along together.

We never quarrel and I am sure he loves me, as I love him. But I hate living this way. I want to be his wife and not his mistress.

On top of all this I have a 9-year-old daughter by a previous marriage. The child is living with her grandmother and I want her here with us. Al likes her very much and is perfectly willing, but I'm afraid to uproot her unless I can offer the security of a home protected by marriage.

Al has a temper and I don't want to rile him. Shall I insist on marriage, or shall I bring my daughter into the house and hope for the best?

—AL'S MISTRESS

DEAR MISGUIDED FOOL: Don't bring your child into a setup which you know is immoral. She is far better off with her grandmother.

As for you, I urge you to move out and stay out until you can sign your next letter "Al's Wife." He'll never marry you if you settle for the present arrangement. Why should he?

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Are my parents living in the 18th Century? I am 16 and Otis is 18. We have been going together for six months.

When Otis comes to our home for an evening we must sit and visit with my parents or play cards with them. Occasionally when I invite Otis into the den so we can have a private conversation my mother criticizes me for being unsociable.

Woman To Woman

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI) — There's nothing Scotch about Yankee Doodle dandies and damsels.

Rather than squeeze coppers when asked to contribute to a good cause, they tend to loosen the purse strings and pretend they are rich as Croesus—a king of Lydia in the Sixth Century B.C. having vast wealth.

Largely through the generosity of individuals, American philanthropy—private giving for public causes—last year scaled a new peak, $9.3 billion!

The American Association of Fund-Raising Counsel, which says so in its yearbook — "Giving U.S.A.," reported the figure tops the preceding year's by $600 million.

The major increases in giving were in the hospital and health fields—to institutions and agencies the givers might expect help from in time of their need.

"Individuals, the major philanthropic resource of America, gave an estimated $7.4 billion," the association said.

Other sources of contributions: foundations, $700 million; business $470 million; charitable bequests, $700 million.

Most of the money—51 per cent—was donated to religious institutions and purposes. Education was marked for 61 per cent of the contributions; welfare, for 15 per cent; health, for 12 per cent; others, for six per cent.

Volunteers, according to the report, are the backbone of the fund - raising efforts by the philanthropic agencies.

A recent survey, for example, shows 35 national philanthropic agencies having a total of more than 32 million listed volunteers.

In addition, it is estimated there are upward of 18 million church workers and thousands more men, women and children who volunteer to help raise funds for local institutions.

Having hit a peak in philanthropic giving, can the average contributor look forward to a lessening of requests for donations?

Negative — is the association's answer. In fact, there are new horizons for philanthropic service.

Reasons:

—With the population growing at the rate of 1.7 per cent a year and rapidly progressing toward an estimated 214 million by 1970, the needs and opportunities for philanthropic services become great indeed.

—New building needs for higher education are estimated to continue running at $1 billion annually throughout this decade.

—Health and welfare services will require an additional $2.5 billion annually in voluntary support.

WILLIAM H. GEDDES

GRANTSVILLE — A new local post office building under construction since June 1963, will be dedicated with appropriate ceremonies Saturday, June 8, it was announced by Postmaster A. Emmons Warnick.

William H. Geddes, postal service officer of the Washington Region of the U. S. Post Office Department for 15 counties in the Cumberland, Md. area, will be principal speaker. Mr. Geddes is a native of Alfalfa, Okla.

The ceremonies will get under way at 1:30 p.m., with Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill, Jr., serving as master of ceremonies for the hour-long program.

The new office contains an interior space of 2,223 square feet, a loading platform of 216 square feet and ample paved area, in front for patron's parking, and in the rear for parking and movement of postal vehicles. The modern one-story brick building, with a native cut flagstone front, is located on the north side of U. S. Route 40, beside Klotz's Rexall Drug Store.

It is also expected that Congress will be represented on the program. Among others participating will be the Northern Junior-Senior High School Band and the 4-H Choral Club.

Open house will follow the program, with light refreshments.

Beall Knocks Mt. Savage Out Of Picture, 3-2

Championship Is 11th For Sentinels Under Cavanaugh

ACL STANDINGS

| | W. | L. | Pct. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Fort Hill | 9 | 3 | .750 |
| Mt. Savage | 8 | 4 | .667 |
| Valley | 7 | 4 | .636 |
| LaSalle | 6 | 6 | .500 |
| Allegany | 5 | 6 | .455 |
| Beall | 5 | 6 | .455 |
| Bruce | 0 | 11 | .000 |

Fort Hill's Sentinels, with an assist from Beall, wrapped up a pair of baseball titles yesterday afternoon by turning back Allegany, 4-2, on their home field.

Beall upset Mt. Savage, 3-2, at Frostburg to prevent the Indians from tying Fort Hill for the championship of the Allegany County Baseball League. The Sentinels wound up with a 9-3 mark, and Mt. Savage closed out its season at 8-4. Fort Hill also copped the intra-city title with a 3-1 record.

In another game on yesterday's ACL slate, Kenny McCormick fired a three-hitter as Valley shut out Bruce, 8-0, at Lonaconing.

Third In Four Years

The Sentinels hopped on Allegany starter Larry Snyder for tow runs in the opening inning yesterday, and led the rest of the way in bringing Fort Hill its 11th championship in the 25-year history of the league, and third in the last four years.

Coach John J. (Bobby) Cavanaugh has been at the helm of all of the Sentinel's championship clubs. They've won the ACL title outright eight times, and shared it on three other occasions.

Stout relief pitching by Dave Price was the key to yesterday's triumph. Allegany trailed by one run (3-2) and had two men on and two out in the fourth when Price came on in relief of starter Wayne Jewell.

Hurls Scoreless Ball

The junior righthander retired Doug Shook on a grounder to the third baseman to end the inning, and went on to hurl scoreless one-hit ball over the final three frames. He was credited with the win.

A walk to Gary Elliott and successive singles by Tom Hamilton and Howard Reynolds scored Fort Hill's first run, and Leroy Hanekamp's sacrifice fly plated Hamilton with the second.

Fort Hill picked up single tallies in the third and fourth. Lonnie Lewis doubled to drive in Billy Dean in the third, and Reynolds' sacrifice fly scored Price in the following inning. Price reached base via a walk, stole second and moved to third on an outfield fly.

Allegany scored in the third when Dave Merrill doubled in Jim Diamond, and Merrill scored himself in the fourth on Jimmy Bell's base hit.

Snyder Goes Route

Righthander Larry Snyder went all the way on the hill for the Campers, who by winning could have caused the intra-city race to end in a three-way tie. As things turned out, Allegany wound up 1-3, and LaSalle finished with a 2-2 mark.

Last year's ACL champions, the Beall Mountaineers, had their say about this year's titlist yesterday by knocking Mt. Savage out of the picture.

Beall's Francis Allen scattered six hits to pick up his fifth win of the season against a single loss. He yielded runs to the Indians in the third and fifth innings.

Catcher Bob Ziler led off the second for Beall with a long drive good for three bases, the came home with the first run when an error was committed on the throw into third.

Allen's hit scored Roger Cutter in the fifth, and the Mounties got the winning run in the bottom of the sixth when Chuck Gray raced home on Neil Keister's successful squeeze bunt.

Ralph Wilson and Bobby Robertson each drove in one run for the Indians. Wilson and Larry Birmingham accounted for four of the six Mt. Savage hits. Don Engle went all the way for the Indians to absorb the loss.

Posts Fourth Win

Valley's McCormick posted his fourth victory and second shutout of the season in handcuffing the Bulldogs, who dropped their 11th straight league game.

Only one Bruce runner reached as far as third base, and that was in the opening inning. McCormick struck out seven and failed to issue any walks.

Fred Sloan and Larry Suder led the Black Knights' 13-hit attack with three safeties apiece, and Philip Shockey and Bill Bevan each drove in a pair of runs.

Three U.S. Walker Cup Players Reach British Quarter-Finals

Dr. Edgar Updegraff, Davies, Sikes Are In Round Of Eight

By HENRY W. THORNBERRY
UPI Sports Writer

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (UPI)—Three United States Walker Cup stars and an unheralded American Army dentist stationed in Germany fought their way into the quarter-finals of the British Amateur golf championship Thursday with two victories each over touted local favorites.

Dick Davies, the defending champion from Pebble Beach, Calif., came from behind in both his matches to lead the march into the round-of-eight with other Walker Cuppers Dick Sikes of Springdale, Ark., and Dr. Edgar Updegraff of Tucson, Ariz., at his heels.

Then came Dr. Ron Luceti, a 26-year-old Army dentist from South San Francisco, Calif., with a pair of resounding upsets that kept alive U.S. hopes for an all-America final on Saturday. The handsome California Army captain was the lone Yank survivor in the lower half of the draw.

Davies, 32-year-old real estate broker, came perilously close to surrendering his title in both the matches. He won on the 19th green of the morning round with a seven-foot putt for a birdie three against tall John Wilson of Scotland, and rallied from 4 down after 11 holes in the afternoon to beat former champion John Beharrell of England, 1 up, when the Briton missed a three-footer on the 18th green.

Sikes, U.S. Public Links champion the last two years, downed Dr. Harry McAnespie of Scotland, 4 and 3, and 19-year-old Fraser Urquhart of Scotland, 2 and 1.

Updegraff bested Geoff Dixon of England, 2 and 1, after being one down at the turn and then won three of the first five holes in a 3 and 2 victory over Scotland's Ronnie Shade. Shade earlier had beaten Boyd O'Donnell of Hollywood, Calif., 2 and 1.

Luceti, expected to make a quick exit Thursday morning, played steady golf to defeat Brian Anderson of Scotland, 3 and 2, and then upset English Walker Cup star Martin Christmas, 3 and 2.

Mantle Is Out For Five Weeks

NEW YORK (AP)—A second examination of Mickey Mantle's left foot Thursday showed that the New York Yankee's $100,000 outfielder will be out of the lineup "a minimum of five weeks."

Dr. Sydney Gaynor, club physician, made the examination after the player was brought here from Baltimore, where his left foot was hurt Wednesday night when the spikes of his shoe caught in a wire fence while he was chasing a home run by Brooks Robinson.

"Mantle has an undisplaced slightly oblique fracture of the third metatarsal with fragments in excellent alignment," Dr. Gaynor announced after an hour-long examination.

"Fortunately, he suffered no other injury. The cast placed on the foot is a very good one and needs no adjustment. However, it will take a minimum of three weeks for the bone to heal.

"When the cast is removed then, Mantle still will have to walk gingerly for two weeks after that so I really see no prospect of his returning to the line-up until after the All-Star game."

The All-Star game is scheduled to be played in Cleveland Tuesday, July 9.

Cubs Tie Giants For NL Lead With 3-2 Win

Chicago Reliefer Homers In Tenth

CHICAGO (AP)—Relief pitcher Lindy McDaniel slammed a 10th inning home run off Billy Pierce Thursday as the Chicago Cubs beat San Francisco 3-2 and tied the Giants for first place in the National League.

The Cubs tied the score at 2-2 on a two-run home run by Bill Williams in the eighth.

McDaniel had bailed the Cubs out of trouble in the top of the 10th by picking Willie Mays off second base with the bases loaded and one out, then fanning Ed Bailey to retire the side.

The Cubs thus swept the four-game series with the reeling Giants and now have won 11 of their last 13 games.

It was the eighth setback in 11 starts for the Giants.

Beall Knocks Mt. Savage Out Of Picture, 3-2

Championship Is 11th For Sentinels Under Cavanaugh

ACL STANDINGS

| | W. | L. | Pct. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Fort Hill | 9 | 3 | .750 |
| Mt. Savage | 8 | 4 | .667 |
| Valley | 7 | 4 | .636 |
| LaSalle | 6 | 6 | .500 |
| Allegany | 5 | 6 | .455 |
| Beall | 5 | 6 | .455 |
| Bruce | 0 | 11 | .000 |

Fort Hill's Sentinels, with an assist from Beall, wrapped up a pair of baseball titles yesterday afternoon by turning back Allegany, 4-2, on their home field.

Beall upset Mt. Savage, 3-2, at Frostburg to prevent the Indians from tying Fort Hill for the championship of the Allegany County Baseball League. The Sentinels wound up with a 9-3 mark, and Mt. Savage closed out its season at 8-4. Fort Hill also copped the intra-city title with a 3-1 record.

In another game on yesterday's ACL slate, Kenny McCormick fired a three-hitter as Valley shut out Bruce, 8-0, at Lonaconing.

Third In Four Years

The Sentinels hopped on Allegany starter Larry Snyder for tow runs in the opening inning yesterday, and led the rest of the way in bringing Fort Hill its 11th championship in the 25-year history of the league, and third in the last four years.

Coach John J. (Bobby) Cavanaugh has been at the helm of all of the Sentinel's championship clubs. They've won the ACL title outright eight times, and shared it on three other occasions.

Stout relief pitching by Dave Price was the key to yesterday's triumph. Allegany trailed by one run (3-2) and had two men on and two out in the fourth when Price came on in relief of starter Wayne Jewell.

Hurls Scoreless Ball

The junior righthander retired Doug Shook on a grounder to the third baseman to end the inning, and went on to hurl scoreless one-hit ball over the final three frames. He was credited with the win.

A walk to Gary Elliott and successive singles by Tom Hamilton and Howard Reynolds scored Fort Hill's first run, and Leroy Hanekamp's sacrifice fly plated Hamilton with the second.

Fort Hill picked up single tallies in the third and fourth. Lonnie Lewis doubled to drive in Billy Dean in the third, and Reynolds' sacrifice fly scored Price in the following inning. Price reached base via a walk, stole second and moved to third on an outfield fly.

Allegany scored in the third when Dave Merrill doubled in Jim Diamond, and Merrill scored himself in the fourth on Jimmy Bell's base hit.

Snyder Goes Route

Righthander Larry Snyder went all the way on the hill for the Campers, who by winning could have caused the intra-city race to end in a three-way tie. As things turned out, Allegany wound up 1-3, and LaSalle finished with a 2-2 mark.

Last year's ACL champions, the Beall Mountaineers, had their say about this year's titlist yesterday by knocking Mt. Savage out of the picture.

Beall's Francis Allen scattered six hits to pick up his fifth win of the season against a single loss. He yielded runs to the Indians in the third and fifth innings.

Catcher Bob Ziler led off the second for Beall with a long drive good for three bases, the came home with the first run when an error was committed on the throw into third.

Allen's hit scored Roger Cutter in the fifth, and the Mounties got the winning run in the bottom of the sixth when Chuck Gray raced home on Neil Keister's successful squeeze bunt.

Ralph Wilson and Bobby Robertson each drove in one run for the Indians. Wilson and Larry Birmingham accounted for four of the six Mt. Savage hits. Don Engle went all the way for the Indians to absorb the loss.

Posts Fourth Win

Valley's McCormick posted his fourth victory and second shutout of the season in handcuffing the Bulldogs, who dropped their 11th straight league game.

Only one Bruce runner reached as far as third base, and that was in the opening inning. McCormick struck out seven and failed to issue any walks.

Fred Sloan and Larry Suder led the Black Knights' 13-hit attack with three safeties apiece, and Philip Shockey and Bill Bevan each drove in a pair of runs.

Three U.S. Walker Cup Players Reach British Quarter-Finals

Dr. Edgar Updegraff, Davies, Sikes Are In Round Of Eight

By HENRY W. THORNBERRY
UPI Sports Writer

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (UPI)—Three United States Walker Cup stars and an unheralded American Army dentist stationed in Germany fought their way into the quarter-finals of the British Amateur golf championship Thursday with two victories each over touted local favorites.

Dick Davies, the defending champion from Pebble Beach, Calif., came from behind in both his matches to lead the march into the round-of-eight with other Walker Cuppers Dick Sikes of Springdale, Ark., and Dr. Edgar Updegraff of Tucson, Ariz., at his heels.

Then came Dr. Ron Luceti, a 26-year-old Army dentist from South San Francisco, Calif., with a pair of resounding upsets that kept alive U.S. hopes for an all-America final on Saturday. The handsome California Army captain was the lone Yank survivor in the lower half of the draw.

Davies, 32-year-old real estate broker, came perilously close to surrendering his title in both the matches. He won on the 19th green of the morning round with a seven-foot putt for a birdie three against tall John Wilson of Scotland, and rallied from 4 down after 11 holes in the afternoon to beat former champion John Beharrell of England, 1 up, when the Briton missed a three-footer on the 18th green.

Sikes, U.S. Public Links champion the last two years, downed Dr. Harry McAnespie of Scotland, 4 and 3, and 19-year-old Fraser Urquhart of Scotland, 2 and 1.

Updegraff bested Geoff Dixon of England, 2 and 1, after being one down at the turn and then won three of the first five holes in a 3 and 2 victory over Scotland's Ronnie Shade. Shade earlier had beaten Boyd O'Donnell of Hollywood, Calif., 2 and 1.

Luceti, expected to make a quick exit Thursday morning, played steady golf to defeat Brian Anderson of Scotland, 3 and 2, and then upset English Walker Cup star Martin Christmas, 3 and 2.

Mantle Is Out For Five Weeks

NEW YORK (AP)—A second examination of Mickey Mantle's left foot Thursday showed that the New York Yankee's $100,000 outfielder will be out of the lineup "a minimum of five weeks."

Dr. Sydney Gaynor, club physician, made the examination after the player was brought here from Baltimore, where his left foot was hurt Wednesday night when the spikes of his shoe caught in a wire fence while he was chasing a home run by Brooks Robinson.

"Mantle has an undisplaced slightly oblique fracture of the third metatarsal with fragments in excellent alignment," Dr. Gaynor announced after an hour-long examination.

"Fortunately, he suffered no other injury. The cast placed on the foot is a very good one and needs no adjustment. However, it will take a minimum of three weeks for the bone to heal.

"When the cast is removed then, Mantle still will have to walk gingerly for two weeks after that so I really see no prospect of his returning to the line-up until after the All-Star game."

The All-Star game is scheduled to be played in Cleveland Tuesday, July 9.

Chicago Reliefer Homers In Tenth

CHICAGO (AP)—Relief pitcher Lindy McDaniel slammed a 10th inning home run off Billy Pierce Thursday as the Chicago Cubs beat San Francisco 3-2 and tied the Giants for first place in the National League.

The Cubs tied the score at 2-2 on a two-run home run by Bill Williams in the eighth.

McDaniel had bailed the Cubs out of trouble in the top of the 10th by picking Willie Mays off second base with the bases loaded and one out, then fanning Ed Bailey to retire the side.

The Cubs thus swept the four-game series with the reeling Giants and now have won 11 of their last 13 games.

Orioles Climb Back Into First Place By Defeating Yankees, 4-2

Birds Snap 2-2 Tie In Eighth; Bouton Injured

Hits By Gentile And Robinson Give Baltimore Victory

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles snapped a 2-2 tie with run-producing singles by Brooks Robinson and Jim Gentile in the eighth inning Thursday night to defeat New York 4-2 and replace the injury-jinxed Yankees as the American League leaders.

Bouton suffered a cut on the right side of his face, which required 12 stitches to close, and also a severe bruise of the right clavicle. X-rays showed no fracture of either the jaw or the clavicle.

Stan Williams, the fourth of five New York pitchers, was the loser. He walked Luis Aparicio to open the eighth, and then after a ground out which advanced Aparicio to second, singles by Robinson and Gentile scored the two runs. Robinson went to second on the throw to the plate in an attempt to get Aparicio, and scored on Gentile's hit.

Gentile also knocked in the first two Oriole runs, on a first inning infield out and a third inning single following a double by Baltimore starting pitcher Robin Roberts.

Roberts, who allowed a run in the sixth on singles by Clete Boyer, Bobby Richardson and Tom Tresh, was replaced in the eighth by Dick Hall. Tresh greeted Hall with a double to knock in the tying run.

Vernon Will Quit Job With Senators

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Washington Manager Mickey Vernon, bumped upstairs when Gil Hodges was named field boss of the Senators two weeks ago, said Thursday night he was quitting his new post with the club.

Vernon, American League batting champion in 1946, became manager of the Senators in 1960 when the league expanded to 10 teams. He lasted through six weeks of the 1963 season before Hodges took over.

Senators Win On Osborne's Home Run, 2-1

Red Sox Rally In Ninth Fails

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Washington Senators edged the Boston Red Sox, 2-1, Thursday night on Larry Osborne's 10th home run of the year, but they had to choke off a ninth inning rally to nail down the victory.

The Senators got only four hits off three Boston pitchers, but Osborne's two-run homer in the first inning gave them the runs they needed to gain their fourth consecutive victory — their longest winning streak of the year.

Boston nicked Dave Stenhouse for a run in the second on Frank Malzone's triple and Ed Bressoud's single. From then until the ninth, Stenhouse held the Red Sox at bay as he struck out nine.

But in the ninth with two out, singles by Roman Mejias and Chuck Schilling along with Gary Geiger's walk filled the bases. Ron Kline came on to get Carl Yastrzemski to bounce out to the mound on the first pitch.

It was Stenhouse's third victory in nine decisions. Gene Conley took his fourth loss.

Orioles Climb Back Into First Place By Defeating Yankees, 4-2

Hits By Gentile And Robinson Give Baltimore Victory

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles snapped a 2-2 tie with run-producing singles by Brooks Robinson and Jim Gentile in the eighth inning Thursday night to defeat New York 4-2 and replace the injury-jinxed Yankees as the American League leaders.

The Yanks, who lost Mickey Mantle with a broken foot bone Wednesday, had starting pitcher Jim Bouton sidelined by a vicious line drive off the bat of Baltimore's Jack Brandt in the fourth inning.

Bouton suffered a cut on the right side of his face, which required 12 stitches to close, and also a severe bruise of the right clavicle. X-rays showed no fracture of either the jaw or the clavicle.

Stan Williams, the fourth of five New York pitchers, was the loser. He walked Luis Aparicio to open the eighth, and then after a ground out which advanced Aparicio to second, singles by Robinson and Gentile scored the two runs. Robinson went to second on the throw to the plate in an attempt to get Aparicio, and scored on Gentile's hit.

Gentile also knocked in the first two Oriole runs, on a first inning infield out and a third inning single following a double by Baltimore starting pitcher Robin Roberts.

Roberts, who allowed a run in the sixth on singles by Clete Boyer, Bobby Richardson and Tom Tresh, was replaced in the eighth by Dick Hall. Tresh greeted Hall with a double to knock in the tying run.

Senators Win On Osborne's Home Run, 2-1

Red Sox Rally In Ninth Fails

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Washington Senators edged the Boston Red Sox, 2-1, Thursday night on Larry Osborne's 10th home run of the year, but they had to choke off a ninth inning rally to nail down the victory.

The Senators got only four hits off three Boston pitchers, but Osborne's two-run homer in the first inning gave them the runs they needed to gain their fourth consecutive victory — their longest winning streak of the year.

Boston nicked Dave Stenhouse for a run in the second on Frank Malzone's triple and Ed Bressoud's single. From then until the ninth, Stenhouse held the Red Sox at bay as he struck out nine.

But in the ninth with two out, singles by Roman Mejias and Chuck Schilling along with Gary Geiger's walk filled the bases. Ron Kline came on to get Carl Yastrzemski to bounce out to the mound on the first pitch.

It was Stenhouse's third victory in nine decisions. Gene Conley took his fourth loss.

Detroit Club Plans To Honor Ty Cobb

DETROIT (UPI) — Calling Ty Cobb, "the greatest figure baseball has ever known," Detroit Tiger President John Fetzer announced Thursday that the club will honor the baseball immortal by installing a bronze plaque outside of Tiger Stadium this summer.

Fetzer said the plaque of the 12-time American League batting champion will be dedicated July 17th, the second anniversary of Cobb's death at the age of 74.

"The memory of Cobb must not be allowed to dim in the city where he grew from the rawest rookie into the greatest figure baseball has ever known," Fetzer said.

Miss Bueno, from Brazil, downed Rita Bentley of England 6-4, 6-4. Miss Hard, from Long Beach, Calif., overcame Carol Hanks of St. Louis, Mo., 6-3, 6-1.

Miss Hanks' powerful hitting threatened to upset Miss Hard early in the match, but once the blonde Wightman Cup star got into her stride she streaked ahead.

Card Of Thanks

The family of Glen Sponaugle wishes to express their appreciation to all who sent flowers and to Rev. Vespa and also to the pallbearers.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Slavko Nicholas Krnaya, who passed away 22 long years ago, June 7, 1941:

Since you went first and left us to remain
And many hours have passed,
I can still feel you near me,
My hand in your clasp.
Sadly missed by his Father, Mother, Brother and Sister.

Card Of Thanks

The family of Glen Sponaugle wishes to express their appreciation to all who sent flowers and to Rev. Vespa and also to the pallbearers.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Slavko Nicholas Krnaya, who passed away 22 long years ago, June 7, 1941:
Since you went first and left us to remain
And many hours have passed,
I can still feel you near me,
My hand in your clasp.
Sadly missed by his Father, Mother, Brother and Sister.

Western police said automobiles driving to West Germany were backlogged in a three-mile-long line at the East German Babelsberg highway checkpoint, just outside Berlin. Average clearance time was three to four hours.

They blamed the backlog on Eastern slowdown inspections.

Downtown Unit To Be Sponsor

An old fashioned circus parade, the first to be held here in about two decades, will be staged next week as a prelude to the opening of the Ali Ghan Shrine Circus.

The colorful parade will be staged early next Thursday night by Ali Ghan Temple, AAONMS, and animals and performers from the Hamid - Morton Three Ring Circus.

The parade will be sponsored by the Downtown Cumberland Business Association.

The Ali Ghan Shrine Circus will give performances June 14, 15 and 16 at the Cumberland Fairgrounds.

The parade will form at the Allegany County Court House at 5:30 p. m. on June 13 and will march off at 6 p. m.

To Include Animals

Leading the line of march will be the Ali Ghan Flag Unit, one of the many uniformed units in the line of march. The Shrine Provost Guard will keep the parade on schedule.

Past illustrious potentates of Ali Ghan Temple, riding in convertibles, will comprise the second section.

They will be followed by the Miss Ali Ghan Girls of 1962, including Miss Pat Linaberg and her court, riding in traditional convertibles.

The Ali Ghan Band and the band truck and the Ali Ghan Ritualistic Team will follow.

Making its first appearance in Cumberland will be the Ali Ghan Oriental Band from Hagerstown.

The Ali Ghan Shrine Circus will put five elephants in the line of march. Animals will include lions, camels and zebras, and circus clowns will take part.

Next units will be the Ali Ghan Motor Corps, the Ali Ghan Patrol and its Drum and Bugle Corps.

Is New Unit

The temple's Mounted Patrol, a new uniformed unit, will make its second appearance at the circus parade.

The parade will leave the Court House promptly at 6 p. m. and proceed to Baltimore Street by way of Washington Street.

It will move on Baltimore Street to George Street, turn right and proceed on South George Street to Harrison Street, to Centre Street and proceed on Centre Street to the Hudson gas station, where it will disband and prepare to go to Searstown for a second performance.

'Fireman Of The Year'

A Barton volunteer firemen, Hamill W. # Special Session On Seating Plan May Be Sought

Would Head Off At-Large Election

BALTIMORE (AP)—A request for a special session of the Maryland Legislature for another go at congressional redistricting may be added to the turmoil created by referendum petitions.

One on horse racing appeared Thursday to be headed for the courts and another on equal racial accommodations in hotels and restaurants may follow the same path.

The idea behind a special legislative session is to head off the necessity of electing a congressman at large again next year.

The League of Women Voters for the second time has successfully stalled by petition an attempt by Democratic leadership to redraw some district boundary lines to provide for the eighth congressman.

Will Push Plan

Dr. Roland I. Perusse, a University of Maryland political science professor and head of a citizens' committee for fair redistricting, will push his plan with Baltimore legislators Friday.

If the response is favorable, he will ask Gov. Tawes to recall the legislature in an attempt to pass it.

It is designed to appeal to Baltimore politicians by allowing the city to continue electing three congressmen. Some alternate plans would reduce the city's representation to two.

Dr. Perusse proposes, however, to extend one city district into Anne Arundel County as far as Friendship Airport and another into Baltimore County.

The remainder of Anne Arundel County along with St. Marys, Calvert, and Charles Counties would be joined with eight Eastern Shore counties across Chesapeake Bay.

Bill Is Stymied

The ninth Eastern Shore county would join Harford and the remainder of Baltimore County.

Howard and Carroll would be added to the Western Maryland counties of Frederick, Garrett, Allegany and Washington.

Prince Georges and Montgomery, now in districts with other counties, would each be entitled to one congressman by itself.

Enactment of any congressional plan labeled emergency at a special session would become effective immediately and would not be subject to petition to referendum.

The one stymied that way now will not be voted upon until November, 1964.

Sugar Grove Radio Station Plan Stopped

WASHINGTON (AP)—A $3,480,000 item for transfer of a naval radio receiving station from the Washington area to Sugar Grove, W. Va., has been eliminated in Congress.

The item was knocked out by the House Armed Services Committee in approving on May 24 the 1963 military construction authorization bill which the House passed Wednesday and sent to the Senate.

Naval officers have described the site of an abandoned "big dish" radio telescope at Sugar Grove an ideal location for the radio receiving station, now located at Cheltenham, Md.

Rear Adm. D. F. Roeder, director of naval communications, told the committee during hearings on the bill that a buildup around the Cheltman station is causing electronic interference with radio reception which would not be experienced at Sugar Grove.

He said the Navy would have to move the Cheltenham receivers within four or five years because of the encroachment of buses, airplanes, electric razors and other household devices creating radio interference.

Chairman Carl Vinson, D-Ga., in rejecting the item, made this comment:

"It looks to me in view of what has happened up there this should be studied a little bit more. . .We went along one time, spent $70 million and it did not turn out what we expected it to. . .Now we come in here for $3.4 million to building housing and everything up there. Let's study this a little more, Admiral, before making a decision."

Physicals Urged For Students

Parents who will have children entering the first grade of school next fall are urged to have the children examined by a physician and dentist before the term begins.

The Allegany County Health Department started its examination program May 1 in conjunction with the Board of Education in an effort to have all children examined.

The two groups urge that all first graders either be examined by their private physicians, the Health Department or by a physician designated by the school PTA.

The Health Department hopes all children are examined before they enter school next fall. Last year 83 per cent of the first graders were examined and it is hoped the figure this year will be 100 per cent.

Both public and parochial children are being urged to participate in the program.

Housing Project Is Discussed By Agencies

Urban Renewal Plans Progress

A joint meeting of the Cumberland Urban Renewal Agency and the Housing Authority of the City of Cumberland was held yesterday afternoon in City Hall.

The purpose of the meeting was to brief housing authority members on the urban renewal agency's plans for the rehabilitation of the downtown area and to get the authority's thoughts in regard to the projejct, according to William F. DeMare, CURA executive director.

The housing authority plans to build 100 housing units for the elderly here, and is considering locating the development somewhere in the downtown area, where various services, including shopping and medical attention, are readily available to the senior citizens.

On Wednesday and yesterday, three staffers from the Housing and Home Finance Agency's office in Philadelphia were here to discuss the city's urban renewal plans.

They are Albert Cuthbertson, field representative; James Treadwell, planning specialist, and Abe Grossman, head of the HHFA engineering section in Philadelphia.

During the visit, the HHFA staffers discussed with local officials plans for the first project area, for which CURA officials are busy preparing an application for a planning grant.

The HHFA staffers reviewed the first draft of the application and the first area's relation to the entire downtown rehabilitation program.

It's Official; LaVale Fire Tax Wins Approval

The Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors yesterday made official LaVale voters' action of Tuesday in approving the proposed fire tax in the area served by the LaVale Volunteer Fire Department.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A $3,480,000 item for transfer of a naval radio receiving station from the Washington area to Sugar Grove, W. Va., has been eliminated in Congress.

The item was knocked out by the House Armed Services Committee in approving on May 24 the 1963 military construction authorization bill which the House passed Wednesday and sent to the Senate.

Naval officers have described the site of an abandoned "big dish" radio telescope at Sugar Grove an ideal location for the radio receiving station, now located at Cheltenham, Md.

Rear Adm. D. F. Roeder, director of naval communications, told the committee during hearings on the bill that a buildup around the Cheltman station is causing electronic interference with radio reception which would not be experienced at Sugar Grove.

He said the Navy would have to move the Cheltenham receivers within four or five years because of the encroachment of buses, airplanes, electric razors and other household devices creating radio interference.

Chairman Carl Vinson, D-Ga., in rejecting the item, made this comment:

"It looks to me in view of what has happened up there this should be studied a little bit more. . .We went along one time, spent $70 million and it did not turn out what we expected it to. . .Now we come in here for $3.4 million to building housing and everything up there. Let's study this a little more, Admiral, before making a decision."

Physicals Urged For Students

Parents who will have children entering the first grade of school next fall are urged to have the children examined by a physician and dentist before the term begins.

The Allegany County Health Department started its examination program May 1 in conjunction with the Board of Education in an effort to have all children examined.

The two groups urge that all first graders either be examined by their private physicians, the Health Department or by a physician designated by the school PTA.

The Health Department hopes all children are examined before they enter school next fall. Last year 83 per cent of the first graders were examined and it is hoped the figure this year will be 100 per cent.

Both public and parochial children are being urged to participate in the program.

Housing Project Is Discussed By Agencies

Urban Renewal Plans Progress

A joint meeting of the Cumberland Urban Renewal Agency and the Housing Authority of the City of Cumberland was held yesterday afternoon in City Hall.

The purpose of the meeting was to brief housing authority members on the urban renewal agency's plans for the rehabilitation of the downtown area and to get the authority's thoughts in regard to the projejct, according to William F. DeMare, CURA executive director.

The housing authority plans to build 100 housing units for the elderly here, and is considering locating the development somewhere in the downtown area, where various services, including shopping and medical attention, are readily available to the senior citizens.

On Wednesday and yesterday, three staffers from the Housing and Home Finance Agency's office in Philadelphia were here to discuss the city's urban renewal plans.

They are Albert Cuthbertson, field representative; James Treadwell, planning specialist, and Abe Grossman, head of the HHFA engineering section in Philadelphia.

During the visit, the HHFA staffers discussed with local officials plans for the first project area, for which CURA officials are busy preparing an application for a planning grant.

The HHFA staffers reviewed the first draft of the application and the first area's relation to the entire downtown rehabilitation program.

It's Official; LaVale Fire Tax Wins Approval

The Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors yesterday made official LaVale voters' action of Tuesday in approving the proposed fire tax in the area served by the LaVale Volunteer Fire Department.

There was no change in the margin as the official canvass showed 699 voted for the fire tax and 524 against it. However, the canvassers did find that the total vote was 1241. Since that is 18 more than the total of the positive and negative votes, election officials presume that 18 voters must have pulled down the small levers for or against the tax and then pulled them back up before pulling the large lever to open the voting machine curtain.

Matthew J. Mullaney is president of the election board. John T. Mason is the new Democratic member and Victor M. Hebb remains as the Republican member.
